U.S. ADVISES CITIZENS TO AVOID INDIA TRAVEL, ISSUES GUIDELINES

Placing India on 'Level 4: Very high level' list, the Centers for Disease Control said even fully vaccinated people are at risk

EXCEPTION MADE FOR URGENT TRAVEL

The advisory, suggesting travellers to reconsider their itinerary, comes a day after the UK imposed similar restrictions on flying to India. The CDC, however, made exceptions for pressing cases with certain conditions. "If you must travel to India, get fully vaccinated. All travellers should wear a mask, stay 6 feet from others, avoid crowds, and wash their hands," it advised

Save India from lockdown: PM

Says protecting lives and keeping economy moving are vital for national fightback

MANISH ANAND @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi was emphatic in his address to the nation on Tuesday that lockdown was not the way out to contain the exponential growth of fresh Covid cases, urging state governments to focus on micro-containment strategies instead.

Stating that all efforts are being made for the wellbeing of the economy and the people, Modi said the country needs to be saved from lockdown, which should be the last resort for state governments.

Modi also referred to reports of migrants thronging railway stations and bus depots to return home, and urged state governments to instill trust in the labour force that their employment would remain protected while they will be expeditiously vaccinated at their places of work.

"I want to request the state administrations that they protect the trust of the labour force that they should stay where they are, and they will continue with their employment while they get vaccinated," he said.

Ensuring the labour force stays at their workplace is necessary for expeditious inoculation, as all above 18 years of age will be vaccinated from May 1, he pointed out.

"Efforts of all of us are to save the lives, and also to ensure that livelihood and the economy are least affected," he emphasised. His remarks came in the wake of a few of the state governments, including Delhi, imposing lockdown, which triggered panic among the migrant workers, wary as they are of a rerun of last year's exodus.

Reiterating his request for people's cooperation in enforcement of the Covid-19 appropriate protocol, Modi called upon the youth, including children, to follow the good practices in their neighbourhood. "If the protocols are followed, there will be no need even for containment zones," he said.

Reassuring the people that the Covid-19 situation will be expeditiously brought under control, Modi said medical oxygen supply is being ramped up in a big way while pharmaceutical companies have already increased production of necessary medicines to treat Covid patients

Longer night curfew, weekend curbs

ANUSHA RAVI @ Bengaluru

THE Karnataka Government on Tuesday announced weekend and night curfews across the State which will be in effect from Wednesday till May 4. These measures, to contain the spread of Covid-19 in the state, come with more stringent protocols and restrictions coupled with a near-total clampdown on weekends.

The night curfew, which was enforced in seven district headquarters between 10 pm and 5 am has been extended to the entire state and will now be in force from 9 pm to 6 am. The weekend curfew will be in force from 9 pm on Friday till 6 am on Monday during which even grocery stores, vegetable, meat, milk shops will function only between 6 am and 10 am. The stringent measures came hours after Governor Vajubhai Vala chaired an all-party meeting and green-signalled a full lockdown, if necessary.

Following PM Narendra Modi's appeal to state governments that lockdowns should be the last resort, Karnataka has refrained from total clampdown, but chose to implement weekend curfews and extend night curfews. "The Covid situation in Karnataka has reached severe proportions, forcing the government to take stringent actions. We have no option but to enforce strict restrictions," said Home Minister Basavaraj Bommai. P4

MAHA HEADED FOR FULL LOCKDOWN?

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Mumbai / New Delhi

MAHARASHTRA, where lockdown-like restrictions are already in place since April 15, is headed for a 15-day total lockdown. The Cabinet meeting on Tuesday unanimously decided to impose strict lockdown from Wednesday night. The final announcement will be made by Chief Minister Uddhav Thackeray on Wednesday, health minister Rajesh Tope said. The Cabinet also decided to cancel Class 10 exam of the state board.

Tope said the state is facing a severe shortage of medical oxygen and Remdesivir injection, while hospital beds are fully occupied. "If we don't act now, things will be difficult to handle," he added.

NATIONWIDE	APRIL 19	APRIL 20
Fresh cases	2,72,191	2,94,115
Recoveries	1,44,178	1,54,761
Deaths	1,619	1,761

Another minister, Jitendra Awhad, said Uddhav was initially reluctant to go for a complete lockdown but the ministers prevailed over him.

Maharashtra has 6,70,388 positive cases with 2,46,119 patients admitted in hospitals.

The situation in Delhi is equally bad with CM Arvind Kejriwal pleading the Centre "with folded hands" to rush medical oxygen. "Serious oxygen crisis persists in Delhi... Some hospitals are left with just a few hours of oxygen," he tweeted.

On Monday, the Delhi government had set up a 24-member committee to ensure "rational" use of medical oxygen for treatment of Covid-19 patients. P9

Appoint ad-hoc judges if vacancy is 20%: SC

KANU SARDA @ New Delhi

EXPRESSING concern over the large number of pending cases in high courts, the Supreme Court on Tuesday set the ball rolling for appointment of ad-hoc judges in HCs to clear pendency.

A bench headed by Chief Justice S A Bobde said, "We have a docket explosion in our country and that it is difficult for adjudication to take place within a reasonable period of time. This crisis situation must be tackled. Some innovation is always the rule of the game."

Timeline for appointing HC judges

The Supreme Court also specified a timeline of 3-4 weeks for appointing HC judges if its Collegium reiterates a name

The bench said the process to appoint ad-hoc judges can be initiated if vacancies are more than 20% of the sanctioned strength of the high court and cases in a particular category are pending for over five years.

The court clarified that ad-hoc appointments cannot be a substitute for regular ones. The number of ad-hoc judges should be between two and five in a high court, it added.

Citing data from the National Judicial Data Grid, the court said five high courts — Allahabad, Punjab & Haryana, Madras, Bombay, and Rajasthan — are responsible for 54% of the pendency of over 57,51,312 cases.

"The Madras High Court has among the highest arrears in the country of 5.8 lakh cases despite having fewer vacancies than most other high courts (7%). This does not take away from the requirement of appointing ad-hoc Judges but supports the view that even if the existing vacancies are few, a situation may arise requiring the expertise of experienced Judges to be appointed as ad hoc Judges," the court held.

The court also laid down timelines for the government take a call on appointment of judges. The bench said that once the Centre receives inputs of state government and the Intelligence Bureau (IB), it would be desirable that the file be forwarded to the Supreme Court Collegium within 8 to 12 weeks. Once the Collegium reiterates a proposal, the government should notify the appointment within 3-4 weeks.

No exams for Std 1-9; Summer break from May 1

PEARL MARIA D'SOUZA @ Bengaluru

AFTER almost a full year of attending classes from home, students of Classes 1 to 9 will now not have to physically write the exams. And they can even look forward to the summer break, come May 1.

The Primay and Secondary Education Department has decided that children will not be asked to physically attend examinations for Classes 1-9. Instead, the Continuous & Comprehensive Evaluation (CCE) programme will be the deciding factor for promoting these students, Minister S Suresh Kumar announced on Tuesday.

Schools are expected to complete the process of declaring results by April 30, and the summer vacations will begin from May 1. For schools with primary level up to Standard 7 or 8, the summer vacation will be from May 1 to June 14, and the next academic year will begin from June 15. Summer holidays for high school students of Classes 8 and/or 9 will be from May 1 to July 15. The academic year 2021-22 for high schools will commence from July 16.

Unachieved learning outcomes will be addressed as part of a bridge course during the commencement of next academic year

Anbu Kumar, Commissioner of Public Instruction

A department official told TNIE that a majority of private schools have completed their examinations, but for those which have not, a summative assessment (at the end of the academic year) done so far can be considered. "At government schools, a formative assessment (done when they're taught in class) will be held," he explained. In a communiqué, Commissioner for Public Instruction, Anbu Kumar, said the evaluation and the results must be a tool only for assessing the learning capabilities of the children. P4

Centre gives nod to two Metro lines

Phase-2A and 2B lines with a distance of 58.19 km are likely to be completed in 4.5 years

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Union Cabinet on Tuesday cleared two long-awaited lines of Bangalore Metro's Phase-II which are likely to transform travel within the city and from the airport to the city. The Phase-2A and Phase 2B lines with a total distance of 58.19 km were approved at a cost of Rs 14,788 crore and are likely to be completed in 4.5 years. The projected ridership on both the lines in 2026 is 7.7 lakh.

The 19.75 km Phase 2A line from Silk Board to KR Puram (Outer Ring Road Line) has 13 stations while the 38.44 km Phase 2B line will connect KR Puram to Kempegowda International Airport via Hebbal and will have 17 stations.

However, there appear to be inconsistencies with the deadline. Union Urban Affairs Minister Hardeep Singh Puri who announced it first through his tweet said it would be completed in 54 months. However, in the presser by Railway Minister Piyush Goyal, he spelt out a 60-month deadline.

Puri said, "Once completed in the estimated 54 months, this project will play a key role in decongesting the city which contributes 40% to India's IT exports and is home to a large number of IT parks, hubs and industries, many of which are located on this route."

Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited Managing Director (in-charge), Rakesh Singh said, "Much of preparatory work has already been completed. Tender evaluation for two packages of ORR can be awarded in a week's time. For the KR Puram-Airport Metro line, the due date for opening of the tenders is May 15."

Multi-modal traffic integration hubs will be developed at Central Silk Board, K R Puram and Hebbal as part of this project, the MD said. On funding, Singh said innovative financing of private participation for long term station naming and access rights for Rs 850 crore and monetization of assets at airport premises of Rs 800 crore have been proposed.

"External funding with Japan International Co-operation Agency for $318 million dollars and Asian Development Bank for $500 million have also been tied up," he said.

Airport connectivity is very important for Bengaluru which is the third busiest in India. We also need to improve the productivity of people for there are particular times in the morning and evening when people wait 2 The IT corridor has nearly 10 lakh people working along the route. We had been trying to get the line for the last two years and it has been much delayed. Still, it is a very happy piece of news. We also need to prepare Bengaluru for a post-pandemic scene and these are important steps in that direction.

T V Mohandas Pai, Chairman, Aarin Capital Partners

We definitely need it. Airport line reaches upto the terminal. It will be a great help to Bengaluru citizens.

More beds being added for Covid care

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) Chief Commissioner Gaurav Gupta on Tuesday informed that while 800 new beds at private hospitals were added to the list of available beds meant for Covid care on Monday, the aim is to have 11,000 beds, through which "we will be able to reach some solution". If every day, 1,000 beds are added, the situation can be handled, he said.

Speaking to reporters, he said, the demand for beds in government and private hospitals is rising, and that is why directions were issued to private hospitals to reserve 50 per cent of their beds to government-referred Covid patients. He added that though the notices issued on Sunday stated that if private hospitals did not reserve beds, then their OPDs will be shut down. But it has not yet been done as the private hospitals are reserving beds, albeit at a slow pace. They have been told to make arrangements at the earliest.

He added that nodal officers are being appointed to each hospital to see who needs to be admitted, and who should be sent to Covid Care Centres, step-down hospitals, makeshift hospitals like hotels and even in home isolation. The matter is in discussion with the government and a decision on this will soon be taken.

The Chief Commissioner added that to address the issue of oxygen supply, an oxygen management committee has been constituted by the state government. The demand for oxygen is rising. Earlier, a tank needed to be refilled once in 2-3 days, but now it has to be refilled two to three times in a day. Around 300 tonnes of oxygen is needed at the moment and it is being procured. The demand for oxygen has increased five times. Inspections are being carried out on wherever demand is rising.

Combat Covid meet takes stock of B'luru East

Bengaluru: Urban Development Minister Byrati A Basavraj on Tuesday held a Covid Combat meeting to deal with the Covid situation in the BBMP wards that come under Whitefield-Mahadevapura and KR Puram constituencies of East Bengaluru. Jurisdictional BBMP officials were present at the meeting, which lasted over two hours. The units were asked to make a more accurate count of the total positive cases by increasing the tests. The minister asked the teams to go to individual houses and carry out tests

We need a short lockdown

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

IRONIC as it may sound, with the city in the grip of the second wave of Covid-19, owners of fine dine restaurants, pubs and bars want the State government to implement a temporary lockdown. Reason being that while businesses are down by 95 per cent since the implementation of night curfew in the city from the April 10, pubs and bars cannot shut business without prior permission of the Excise department, said Amit Roy of Watson's, a popular chain of pubs in Bengaluru. "The footfall in many pubs and bars had started declining since the second week of March, but most of them are practically empty now. People are scared about their health and the crumbling health infrastructure. It is becoming difficult to run a business under these circumstances. It is better that the government announces a temporary lockdown. It will help break the chain of rising cases," he added.

Rajesh Rajaram of 13th Floor and Ebony, a lounge bar and restaurant, said that he closed Ebony 10 days ago and is running 13th Floor on a combined menu. "People don't want to step out now because of the fear that if they get infected, they may not find beds in hospitals."

Flyers will ignore Metro to airport like they do with trains, say experts

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE newly-cleared Metro lines that will connect the city to the airport have drawn criticism from transport experts.

Public transport campaigner Sanjeev Dyamannavar was skeptical of the project deadlines and ridership on the routes. "By the time the line is completed, it would be 2030 and the cost would shoot up to nearly Rs 30,000 crore. With the crossovers at interchanges and numerous stoppages, it would take between 1.5-2 hours to reach the airport from say Silk Board."

Transport expert M N Srihari said the new lines were essential, and that IT professionals would benefit more than air passengers. "With vehicles running at 9 km/hr during peak time on Outer Ring Road and the high pollution levels, it will really help the IT professionals to use the Metro. Airport users may not use it much as is the case with the new railway trains to the airport," he said.

For Pradeep Kanapoore, a chip designer, the 45-minute commute to his office in Mahadevapura from his house in Silk Board via ORR was a headache. "In case of rains or VIP movement, it takes longer. I once spent two hours while returning home," he said.

21st April: It's a Geminian day. What does that mean? Well, for one thing we can all do two things at once, Gemini being the sign of the twins. One safe prediction is that people everywhere will be double-booking themselves. Don't blame them. After all, who said we can't be in two places at once?

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The Sun and Pluto have teamed up in a rather splendid alignment, but if you think that you can sit around while financial matters sort themselves out, you are making a big mistake. Don't take risks, and don't toy with someone else's emotions.

TAURUS (Apr. 21- May 21)
Partners really must be taken seriously if you are not to blunder into something rather more than you bargained for. Never make the cardinal error of belittling any friend, colleague or associate, especially if you happen to be in their debt!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
One area of your chart which deserves mention today represents your physical well-being. It looks as if emotional tension could leave you feeling worn out, but sensible, organised relaxation will go a long way to help. Pamper yourself!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Tomorrow's stars raise the prospect of wild and costly financial risks. The reason this needs to be mentioned today is so that you can resist any seductive blandishments or offers coming your way over the next twenty-four hours - at least until you're aware of the hidden pitfalls.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
A very powerful theme in your solar chart concerns a possible move of home or equivalent domestic upheaval. The best way to retain control is to set the pace at every turn. Once you start reacting to events after they happen, you will quickly lose your way.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
There's a possible problem at work, perhaps involving a misunderstanding and almost certainly connected to a person of intense passions. Somebody you're involved with will also make a demand for total truth and commitment. Be careful, and say only what you mean.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
There is a sense in which you keep coming back to the same financial problems and worries, just like a cracked record. Yet rather than dwelling on hopes, fears and other illusions, you may actually do something about it. All you need is sufficient determination.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
It so happens that today's planetary picture offers you the chance to triumph once and for all. You could even be propelled headlong into a remarkable twelve-month period of optimism and opportunity. Any way in which you can put your cares behind you will be well worth the effort.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Mercury represents your brilliant thoughts and best ideas, and its current helpful presence reveals your ability to control everyone and everything set up in opposition to you. You may be able to banish rivals with no more than a few well-chosen words.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Business pressures are mild today, but liable to blow up before much longer. In general I'd advise caution but, in specific situations, you must use your own judgment. It may be better to make plans in secret, away from others' intrusive gaze. That way you'll avoid unnecessary criticism.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Little by little life is moving your way, and you may assert your independence and stand up for your rights. However, authority figures, from employers to the law, are liable to be swept by intense emotions at unpredictable moments, so watch out!

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You still have a powerful desire for anything which is strange, different or just plain unusual. It really doesn't matter what you dabble in, or where you do it, just as long as it is stimulating and stirs up new ideas. Leave partners to cope with dull, everyday life!

Siddu calls meeting 'unconstitutional'

Bengaluru: Opposition leader Siddaramaiah on Tuesday questioned Governor Vajubhai Vala's decision to hold the all-party meeting to discuss the Covid situation in the state, and termed it "unconstitutional". "It is unconstitutional. The governor has no power to interfere in the administration of the state," the former CM said in the meeting. "I have my objections about the meeting. However, I am attending it due to respect for the Governor, who called this meeting."

Siddaramaiah also criticised Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa for not calling an all-party meeting even though the expert committee, constituted by the state government, had reported about the Covid second wave. Congress leaders, who took part in the meeting, gave their suggestions to contain the Covid spread.

ANUSHA RAVI @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Governor Vajubhai Vala on Tuesday greenlighted a complete lockdown to control the Covid-19 situation in the State, if the government were to decide on the same. Even as opposition leaders like Siddaramaiah insisted that the all-party meeting called for by the Governor was unconstitutional, Vala defended his move, citing the unprecedented situation of the pandemic. While Chief Minister BS Yediyurappa, who is recuperating from a Covid reinfection in hospital, and Medical Education Minister Dr K Sudhakar represented measures taken by the government to keep lives as well livelihoods going, JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy demanded a complete lockdown. The Congress, on the other hand, demanded accountability from the government for ignoring the Technical Advisory Committee's recommendations and failing to prepare for the second wave, despite warnings. Even as the State said that a complete lockdown would adversely impact the economy, Governor Vala insisted that a healthy Karnataka should be the priority.

"It should be a healthy Karnataka and not a wealthy Karnataka," a statement from Raj Bhavan said, attributing the quote to the Governor. Vala also asked the State government to take strong steps to contain the pandemic. Within hours after the meeting, the State government issued fresh guidelines, extending night curfew and introducing weekend lockdowns in Karnataka till May 4.

The virtual all-party meeting saw leaders from BJP, Congress and JDS presenting their suggestions. "The government has made a huge mistake by not taking the TAC's recommendations seriously. There is a shortage of beds, medicines and oxygen and no accountability is being fixed," said Siddaramaiah, accusing the government of allowing the situation to go out of hand. He insisted that a health emergency be declared immediately, and all funds be diverted to tackle the pandemic.

Big two spar over governor's meet

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE opposition Congress and the ruling BJP sparred over Governor Vajubhai Vala holding an all-party meeting on Tuesday evening to discuss the Covid situation.

Chief Minister B S Yediyurappa, Congress leaders Siddaramaiah and D K Shivakumar and JDS leader H D Kumaraswamy among others attended the virtual meeting called by the governor.

Taking a dig at the state government, Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) president Shivakumar said that this was for the first time that a governor had called such a meeting. This is an indication that governor's rule will be imposed in the state in the coming days, he added.

"Karnataka is not a Union territory like Puducherry or Delhi. The governor could have got information (on Covid situation) from the state government and we do not know under what provision of law, the meeting of opposition leaders and others was convened. We have an elected government in the state," Shivakumar said.

The Congress leader slammed the state government for its failure to handle the situation. "The governor holding the meeting indicates that the Centre has intervened to tackle the situation," he said. The government has to explain all facts to the people and give them some confidence in this hour of crisis. He also said that the government must order a death audit to find out the reasons for the deaths of Covid patients.

Taking to social media, the state Congress unit stated that the governor holding such a meeting indicates the government's inability to handle the situation and face the opposition parties.

Home and Parliamentary Affairs Minister Basavaraj Bommai hit back at the Congress and asked Shivakumar not to politicise the pandemic. It is not correct to equate the governor's meeting with governor's rule in the state. The Prime Minister had spoken to the governors and such meetings were held in many states, including Maharashtra and Rajasthan, he said.

Anti-cow-slaughter Act: 58 FIRs filed in 60 days in state

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @Bengaluru

IN the last 60 days, ever since the controversial Karnataka Prevention of Cow Slaughter and Preservation of Cattle Act, 2020 was notified on February 15 this year, 58 FIRs have been registered against offenders who were caught slaughtering and transporting cattle and meat. Also, over 200 cattle, including calves, were rescued during illegal transportation.

The law allows authorities to conduct search and seizure operations. It also gives powers to officials to conduct raid and seize cattle during transportation outside the state if there is no valid certification from a veterinarian or competent authority.

The Act has provisions for imprisonment of not less than three years and up to seven years apart from a fine of not less than Rs 50,000 and up to Rs 10 lakh based on the severity of the offence.

As per data available with The New Indian Express, many districts, including Chikkamgaluru, Hassan, Dakshina Kannada, Chamarajanagar and Chitradurga, have reported more cases, while Koppal, Kalaburagi, Kolar, Belagavi and others have not recorded any cases. Data also reveals that officials have rescued at least 210 cows, calves and buffaloes in 60 days. Some of the cattle was caught while being transported outside Karnataka.

Animal Husbandry Minister Prabhu Chavan said from Day 1, officials from his department along with the local police are monitoring illegal transportation or slaughtering of cattle and registering cases under the new law. Majority of the cattle rescued were sent to goshala.

Department sources said that Cavan has directed officials to focus on the production of meat from sheep and chicken to meet the demand.

The Bill was passed in the Lower House in December 2020, but was able to get the nod of the Upper House.

As many as 153 personnel of the Bengaluru police have tested positive for Covid-19 in the second wave, with some of them being admitted to hospitals. On Tuesday, 27 new cases were reported, with three staffers having succumbed so far.

55 pc of patients pulled strings for ICU beds, oxygen

Just 13% of those who required Covid-19 management drugs got through hospitals

A Covid Care Centre set up at the Bengaluru International Exhibition Centre

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

A WHOPPING 55 per cent of Covid-19 patients in the country who managed to get ICU beds, could do so only with clout or connections, a survey by LocalCircles, released on Tuesday, has revealed.

According to the survey, only 13 per cent of those who required Covid-19 management drugs were able to get it through hospitals while others had to bank on clout/connections, excess payments and bribes. Interestingly, Covid warriors in Bengaluru agree that the findings are true and point out that they receive more than 100 calls every day.

Speaking to TNIE, Ameen E Muddassar, an educationist who also handles a Covid helpline portal in Bengaluru, was in tears when he said, "I feel so helpless. I receive at least 100 calls a day. In the last four days, I could help only about 20 to 30 and not more. The situation has gone out of control."

He explained that most of the people who call him are looking for ICU beds, oxygen beds, plasma, Covid-19 management drugs, such as Tocilizumab and Remdesivir. "It is true that only clout and connections work. Unfortunately, in Bengaluru, we have sort of exhausted those too. I have pulled strings to ensure people get beds, oxygen, etc., but nothing seems to be working now," said an exasperated Ameen who even released an emotional video, which went viral. He was seen pleading with the people of Bengaluru to voluntarily lock down saying that the situaiton is very bad.

"While some are seeking beds for their mother, some seek oxygen for their son, it is heart-wrenching. I am helpless. The situation is bad. Please stay indoors and I request the State Government to please make arrangements," he says.

The LocalCircles survey was conducted across 309 districts and received over 17,000 responses, of which 68 per cent of respondents were men and 32 per cent were women. Around 49 per cent of the respondents were from tier-1 cities, 28 per cent from tier-2 cities and 23 per cent were from tier-3, 4 and rural districts.

From 8,645 responses received through social media platforms, 42 per cent respondents said they had to use clout or connections to secure an ICU bed, 24 per cent said they had to follow up extensively to secure an ICU bed, 3 per cent said they had to escalate via social media or complain to the government while 13 per cent said they had to do all of the above. Five per cent of the respondents said they did not get an ICU bed in the past 45 days.

Meanwhile, Asha Suryanarayan, a Covid warrior, volunteer, coordinator for blood banks and social worker, says, "I have been rendering Covid service from last March. I have so far managed to help about 150 patients get ICU beds and oxygen.

Critical patients from B'luru dash to Mysuru for beds

KARTHIK K K @Mysuru

THE dearth of beds and unavailability of ventilators and oxygen in Bengaluru has forced several patients to look to Mysuru for hospitalisation.

In several multi and super-speciality hospitals in the city, infrastructure is coming under pressure as infected patients, especially the critically ill from Bengaluru, are rushing to Mysuru for oxygenated beds.

At a time when the second wave of Covid-19 is wreaking havoc across the state, there is a severe shortage of beds in Bengaluru, especially oxygenated ones, to treat critically-ill and SARI cases, as the capital is reporting a massive surge in cases.

"Many are getting admitted here. Even non-Covid patients who are referred by doctors from Bengaluru are making inquiries for beds here in the past three days," said a staffer of a private hospital.

Asked about this, Mysuru Deputy Commissioner Rohini Sindhuri said as there is a shortage of beds in Bengaluru, many patients who have easy access to Mysuru or have relatives here, are trying to get hospitalised in Mysuru. "Many late admissions and risky cases are coming to us. We can't restrict people from coming here but are only worried about deaths as many who have low oxygen levels in transit get admitted and the death is reported here," she said.

Even private ambulance service providers said they were getting calls from Bengaluru, inquiring if they were willing to shift a patient from Bengaluru to Mysuru.

The trend has left health officials and the district administration worried as the district has reported nearly 40 deaths in the past week, which also comprises patients from Bengaluru and other neighbouring districts.

With cases surging, demand for ICUs goes up

CHETANA BELAGERE @ Bengaluru

WITH the number of cases increasing every day and people frantically searching for beds, data available with BBMP's Covid-19 Hospital Bed Status (CHBS) shows that only one ICU ventilator bed and no ICU beds are available at government hospitals in the city.

Among the government medical colleges including Victoria Hospital, Bowring and Lady Curzon Hospitals, Charaka Super Speciality Hospital, and Govt HSIS Gosha Hospital, only two beds in each category are available, that too, both at Gosha Hospital. Others have neither.

"The situation is alarming. We are seeing at least 15 to 20 people in a critical state every day. They need to be in the ICU, but we cannot accommodate them. We will have to increase the ICU beds," said a senior doctor from Victoria hospital.

Although officials from the State Health Department and doctors at the private hospitals have claimed that the CHBS data is not correct, there are 33 ICU beds and 19 ICU beds with ventilators are available at private hospitals.

"We already non-Covid patients in the wards. Most of them cannot be shifted immediately. We are trying our best to manage the situation," said Dr Satyanarayana Mysore of Manipal Hospitals.

Meanwhile, another senior doctor from a private hospital said, "We have to compile the data of bed availability and put it up on the CHBS. I understand it makes life easier for many people and even confrontations at hospitals can be avoided. But there is no staff to manage all this."

Helpless warriors

Meanwhile, Covid warriors are in a state of helplessness and panic as they are receiving at least 100 frantic calls a day demanding beds.

Dr C N Manjunath, Director, Jayadeva Institute of Cardiovascular Diseases, and member of Covid 19 Technical Advisory Committee, said, "Number of patients in the ICU is going up. The double mutant may be playing its role and there is also late presentation. Many patients are coming in late, which is leading to deaths."

A majority of the deaths - the highest in the second wave so far - have occurred among patients who suffered from breathlessness, cough, and fever and were found to have been admitted with severe comorbidities.

Senior bioethics researcher Anant Bhan, said, "It is important that the government immediately work towards proper communication. People should know when to actually go to the hospital and when they can manage Covid-19 at home. Not everyone may need hospitalisation, but monitoring of home isolated cases then becomes an important aspect. We must put that in place immediately. Make CCCs (Covid Care Centres) in every ward so that people who cannot afford to stay at home can get treated here. This will prevent mortality."

Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar on Tuesday had told the media that private hospitals' bed allotment is not satisfactory. "We are working towards increasing ICU beds in government hospitals too. We will do it soon and ensure people are not in trouble," he added.

Record jump in cases again

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

KARNATAKA on Tuesday added a whopping 21,794 Covid cases to its tally, even as the state's positivity rate went over 5 per cent, while recording the highest day's deaths at 149.

With this big jump in the number of cases, the state's tally now stands at 11,98,644, witnessing a 1.85 per cent growth from Monday's tally of 11,76,850.

Bengaluru too recorded its highest day's addition at 13,782 new cases, bringing up the tally to 5,70,035.

This is the record highest addition to the tally since the pandemic broke out in the state on March 8, 2020. To understand how more intensely the second wave of this pandemic is raging compared to the first in the state, the highest single-day addition statewide then was 10,947 on October 7, 2020, while close to double of that was recorded on Tuesday.

The state's positivity rate stands at 5.02 per cent against Monday's 4.96 per cent even as the recovery rate fell further to 85.58 per cent against the previous day's 86.77 per cent. The recovery rate has been plummeting since January-end after witnessing a high of 98.06 per cent on January 30, when the first wave was considerably weakening.

Karnataka's active cases rose to 1,59,158 from 1,42,084 on Monday, and the state is ranked third among states with the highest number of patients currently under treatment,.

Ashoka directs DCs to identify cremation land

Bengaluru: With the number of Covid deaths increasing in the state, Revenue Minister R Ashoka directed all Deputy Commissioners to identify land for cremating bodies. In a letter, Ashoka said deaths are on the rise in all urban local bodies as well as Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike limits, and he has learnt that many are facing difficulty in cremating their loved ones. Ashoka directed DCs to identify land which is 1-2 km away from city limits where the local body can make temporary arrangements. In Bengaluru alone, there are 12 electric crematoria of which seven are designated for cremating people who died due to Covid.

CLASS 10 EXAMS TO GO AS PER SCHEDULE

"UNACHIEVED learning outcomes will be addressed as part of a bridge course during the commencement of the next academic year," Commissioner for Public Instruction, Anbu Kumar said.

The Education Department circular, however, states that Class 10 exams for state board students (SSLC) will be as per schedule, from June 21 to July 5. Summer holidays for high school teachers will be from June 15 to July 14. The circular, however, is subject to revision.

The government's decision had mixed reactions from educationists and experts.

"Many private schools have already completed their exams. It looks like an order for only government schools. Many government schools have not completed the syllabus. It's good for these students. But the Education Department must prepare better for the next year," said Nagasimha, RTE Activist

"The decision could have been taken earlier to avoid anxiety and tension among children. It's better late than things going from bad to worse. I welcome the decision. This was the only option available for the state within the RTE Act and Rules. We need to promote children by ensuring age-appropriate and grade-appropriate learning evaluated through CCE. The department rightly depends on the cumulative learning and learning profile of each child based on CCE. We are rightly implementing the RTE Act after 11 years of its implementation," said Dr Niranjanaradhya.V.P, Development Educationist.

"After months of physical and online classes, there's a need for examinations and it can be held online. One major problem unaddressed is the students who have never attended classes thus far -- which is nearly 30 to 40 per cent."

Covid-positive techie dies for want of oxygen bed

Non-Covid patient dies due to non-availability of oxygen bed

A 40-year-old man who fell unconscious due to severe breathing issues near Kamalanagar Market in Bengaluru, succumbed after not finding a bed, though he didn't have Covid 19. He was lying unconscious near the market when locals, with the help of former Corporator M Shivaraju, arranged for an ambulance and shifted him to KC General Hospital in Malleswaram. However, as the hospital did not have beds, he was shifted to Victoria Hospital, but then they couldn't find an oxygen bed there too.

CHETANA BELAGERE @Bengaluru

EVEN as Health Minister Dr K Sudhakar says that the state has arranged enough oxygen supply for hospitals, the ordeal of people dying due to the lack of oxygen beds is continuing in Bengaluru.

A 35-year-old software engineer succumbed, despite a Covid warrior's effort to find him another hospital with an ICU bed. Relating the incident to TNIE, social worker Asha Suryanarayan said, "Subramanya was a bright software engineer and a family friend. At around 9am on Monday, I received a call from his wife, who had first tested positive and recovered. She was desperate as the Devagiri Hospital, where Subramanya was admitted, had asked her to shift him to another facility where they could avail oxygen supply."Devagiri Hospital reportedly lacked oxygen supply, and mentioned that the patient's condition may become critical if oxygen is not provided in time. The patient by then was put on all Covid drugs, including Remedisivir, but was not responding.

Asha apparently tried calling every single officer whose number she had on her phone list. "I called all -- zonal, nodal, local, Dr Sudhakar's office, BBMP officers -- who I thought may help. After at least 60 calls, I finally found Dr Viswanath Reddy, who owns Prashanth Hospital, who agreed to take in the patient," she said.

However, the hospital was located in Bommanahalli and Subramanya was admitted in Banashankari's Devagiri Hospital. "Authorities at Devagiri told us that the patient may show dip in oxygen levels during mobility from Banashankari to Bommanahalli, but he will improve once he receives care," she explained.

Unfortunately, by the time Subramanya reached Prashanth Hospital, his condition had worsened and his saturation levels had dropped to 65. "Dr Vishwanath and his team tried their best, but in vain. By the time we reached the hospital, he was already finding it difficult to breathe," she grieved.

TO THE RESCUE

NO MORE OXYGEN SHORTAGE

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a big boost to supply of medical oxygen, a private steel manufacturer in Karnataka has agreed to supply 400 tonnes of liquefied oxygen every day to the state, that will be routed to various hospitals, to treat Covid-19 patients. This comes after the intervention of Mines and Geology Minister Murugesh R Nirani and Industries Minister Jagadish Shettar, who met representatives of the steel giant JSW Steel.

Meanwhile, Shettar held meetings with heads of department of transport, commercial taxes, oil companies and oxygen manufacturers, who agreed to supply oxygen. They have decided to have special stickers and make arrangements at toll gates for easy movement of these vehicles. Universal Oxygen has decided to set up a plant for oxygen production, and Shettar said all the prerequisites for setting up an oxygen plant would be arranged immediately.

Shettar said units of the Defence Research Development Organisation had assured the state government that they would work to supply oxygen in about 5-6 days. The government had ordered all such industries to produce enough oxygen to make up for the shortfall in the state.

Nirani convened a meeting with representatives of several steel companies which produce liquefied oxygen for use in their plants.

Vinod Nowal, Deputy Managing Director of JSW Steel, agreed to supply 400 tonnes of liquefied oxygen per day. "Our company is committed to Karnataka. We are equipped and ready to supply more oxygen if the demand arises," Nowal said after the meeting.

Nirani has urged other steel companies to come forward to help the state.

Gyms, malls to remain shut till May 4

SOON after the all-party meeting, the Home Minister had hinted at the possibility of severe restrictions. Hours later, the new guidelines were issued.

An order issued by Chief Secretary P Ravi Kumar said gyms, cinema halls, schools, colleges, shopping malls will remain shut till May 4. Stadiums and playgrounds can be open for practice and training purposes. All places of worship will remain closed, but rituals can continue. Hotels and restaurants will only be allowed to provide takeaway or delivery services. While construction activities are permitted during the week, it will be prohibited during the weekend curfew.

Industries have been allowed to function apart from essential service sectors like banks, medical and paramedical services, police, postal services, media, etc., with the condition that Covid-19 appropriate measures are adhered to. While all public transport will be open, the capacity has been capped at 50 per cent.

HC offers to hold special sittings to resolve transport issue

Says strikes by such service providers affect citizens' fundamental rights

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Tuesday observed that the current time was possibly the "worst" for the state transport unions to protest, and offered to hold special sittings during the summer holiday to resolve the issue.

While hearing a batch of PILs filed against the ongoing strike, a division bench of Chief Justice Abhay Shreeniwas Oka and Justice Suraj Govindaraj said, "We hope and trust that without compromising the demands made by the union, the employees of the four state-run transport entities come forward to operate buses immediately, so that common man does not suffer further."

The court issued notices to the state government, state-run transport corporations, and the Karnataka State Road Transport Corporation Employees League/Union.

Saying that it was not commenting on the "correctness or legitimacy of demands", the court observed that such strikes would affect the fundamental rights of citizens as the state-run services were the cheapest mode of transport. The court said that people have to report to duty, and go to vaccination centres.

Passengers wait to board private buses in Majestic, in the wake of the transporters' strike, in Bengaluru on Tuesday | EXPRESS

"Perhaps this is possibly the worst time to take recourse to the strike, assuming the demands are legitimate," the court noted, adjourning the hearing to Thursday.

Orally observing that today is not the time to decide whether the demands are legitimate or not, the court said that employees should resume operation of buses, and added that if unions come forward, the court would hold special sittings on Monday and Tuesday to solve the issue even though it would be summer holiday for the court.

The Court noted that the state government had filed a response stating that as a result of the strike, the operations of the transport corporations have been paralysed and that even now, over half of buses are off the roads and that state has taken action against the employees' unions.

Advocate General Prabhuling K Navadagi submitted that ESMA has been invoked against employees and that 98% of employees participated in the strike which was declared illegal by the labour court.

Navadagi also submitted that the employees were demanding that they be treated as government employees but that it was unviable.

Water pumps seized for trademark infringement

Bengaluru: A water pump manufacturing unit was raided in connection with a trademark infringement suit, and pumps worth Rs 1.5 crore were seized, on Tuesday. The suit was filed in a Delhi court by Calama Sells Pvt Ltd, Indore, against Calama Aqua Engineering Pvt Ltd, Bengaluru. The court had appointed advocates as local commissioners to conduct raids on the premises of Calama Aqua Engineering Pvt Ltd. in Bengaluru and Shivamogga, a release said.

Bookie arrested in cricket betting racket

Bengaluru: The East Division police on Monday arrested a 46-year-old bookie on charges of running an online cricket betting racket via a mobile app, and recovered Rs 86,000 in cash from him. The accused, Juseb Yunis Imran, was working as a real estate agent. Police said Imran was caught near Rajkumar Park in HRBR Layout, when he was receiving bets from punters for the match between Chennai Super Kings and Rajasthan Royals.

Fintech startup staffer held for ₹1.92-cr fraud

MG CHETAN @Bengaluru

AN employee of a fintech startup has been accused of swindling Rs 1.92 crore in funds belonging to the company and its customers. An internal probe revealed that he had used the money to clear his debts and on online betting. The firm has lodged a police complaint.

Vivek Sequeira (33), a graduate hailing from Mangaluru, was working as a Customer Success Lead in the Customer Grievance and Complaints Department with the fintech startup with its head office in Koramangala 4th Block, since June 2019.

Police said Shishir Shandilya, an associate director of the HR department, has filed a formal complaint on April 16. The company in its annual audit for the financial year 2020-21 had traced embezzlement of Rs 1.92 crore and an internal investigation was launched into the matter. "They had found that the money that was supposed to be transferred from one customer to the another was swindled by Sequeira. In a span of 11 months, from June 2020 to April 2021, Sequeira had transferred Rs 1.92 crore in multiple transactions to three of his accounts with two private banks," the police said.

"After his role was established in the fraud, he was questioned by the management and he has told them that he raised several loans from various banks, but unable to repay them. Hence, he had committed the offence and had used the money to clear debts. Besides, he also admitted to having spent the money on online betting, causing a huge loss to his employer and customers," a police officer said.

Night curfew imposed in Telangana again

Health experts welcome decision to implement move restricting public movement between 9 pm and 5 am

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hyderabad

THE nightmare of night curfew is back once again in the State. Till April 30, one has to remain home at nights between 9 pm and 5 am.

The government imposed the night curfew on Tuesday in the wake of an explosion in the number of Covid-19 cases in the State.

"The night curfew will end at 5 am on May 1. Any violation of the night curfew rules will result in prosecution under Sections 51 to 60 of the Disaster Management Act, 2005 and Section 188 of the IPC as well as other applicable laws," stated an order issued by Chief Secretary Somesh Kumar.

According to the order, the number of Covid-19 cases in the country has been showing a rising trend since the last few weeks. The Ministry of Home Affairs has issued an order laying down guidelines for effective control of Covid-19, with a provision for states to impose local restrictions to prevent the spread based on assessment of the situation.

"Various measures to control Covid-19 in the State have been reviewed. It is decided to introduce night curfew in the State to prevent the spread of Covid-19," the order read.

If Telangana doesn't have restrictions in the movement of people, the peak will only arrive in mid-June-July. The idea is to have the peak happen in May and see a decline after that

GVS Murthy, Director, Indian Insitute of Preventive Health

However, people working in emergency services will be permitted outdoors during the curfew. Public health experts welcomed the decision of the State government, averring that something is better than nothing. "If Telangana doesn't have restrictions in the movement of people, the peak will only arrive in mid-June-July. The idea is to have the peak happen in May and see a decline after that, for which more steps need to be taken," said Dr GVS Murthy, Director, Indian Insitute of Preventive Health, Hyderabad. Experts note that while there is no conclusive evidence that such curfews help, the government can give it a try besides other steps like speeding up vaccinations and testing people in high spread areas.

Weekend lockdown ruled out

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @T'puram

A top-level meeting chaired by Chief Secretary V P Joy on Tuesday decided to not impose weekend lockdown in the State. Instead, the conclave agreed to conduct mass testing in regions coming under the limits of local bodies, where the test positivity rate (TPR) is higher than the district average. All those residing in these areas will have to undergo testing.

Though the test positivity is at an all-time high in the State, there is no need for a weekend lockdown in the present situation, the meeting decided. Besides, it was decided to carry out scientific study on the mutation that occurred to the virus in Kerala, during the second wave of infection through genome sequencing.

Despite the sharp rise in cases during the second wave, the State has enough ventilators and ICU facilities to tackle the emergency situation,

Through mass testing, the government has come out with an ambitious plan to bring down down the positivity rate.

Will examine HC verdict before deciding course of action, says Jaleel

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ T'puram

IN the wake of the Kerala High Court turning down his petition, former higher education minister K T Jaleel said he would adopt the future course of action after examining the verdict in detail and discussing it with those concerned.

The High Court on Tuesday dismissed Jaleel's petition challenging the Lok Ayukta verdict that held him guilty of nepotism and favouritism. In a Facebook post, The court observed that Jaleel has not made out any ground for interference in the final opinion formulated by the Lok Ayukta. The Lok Ayukta had found that the conduct of Jaleel would amount to a violation of the oath of office taken by him as a Minister to discharge his duties without fear or favour, affection or ill will.

Jaleel said he resigned as Minister following the Lok Ayukta vedict and with it, that chapter has come to a close. He said it was on the basis of legal opinion that he approached the High Court.

Jaleel said he believes the Almighty, who is capable of seeing through people, is watching everything. He said this belief gives him immense strength. The former minister also reiterated that his actions caused no loss to the State exchequer and his intention was only to revive a uasi-government institution that was in a shambles.

Reacting to the High Court verdict, Opposition leader Ramesh Chennithala said it is a slap on the face of the CPM and Chief Minister Pinarayi Vijayan.

"Pinarayi is a co-accused in the nepotism case involving Jaleel. It was the Chief Minister who took the decision to change the qualification criteria for appointment to the post of general manager in the Minorities Development Corporation. The verdict is, therefore, a charge sheet against the Chief Minister too," said Chennithala.

Man kills brother, dumps body with mom's help

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Kollam

IF not for a secret tip-off received by the police, another Georgekutty would have escaped in a Drishyam-style murder that took place in Kollam some two years ago.

A 44-year-old man was murdered by his brother and buried with the help of his own mother on their house premises at Yeroor in Anchal here. Anchal police initiated an investigation based on a tip-off received by the DySP of Pathanamthitta police and took the accused into custody. The land near their house will be searched to exhume the body on Wednesday.

Two-and-a-half years later, the incident came to light after a relative gave a tip-off to the police. The Pathanamthitta police received the tip-off that a man, who went missing from Anchal in Kollam two years ago, was murdered by his relatives and buried near his house.

The deceased has been identified as Shaji Peter, 44, a native of Yeroor.

After the police shared the tip-off with their counterparts in Kollam, the Anchal police immediately took Shaji's elder brother Sajin Peter, mother Ponnamma and Sajin's wife Arya into custody. The police will inspect the place where the body was buried, in the presence of forensic experts on Wednesday.

The incident took place during the Onam season of 2018. Shaji Peter was unmarried and was away from home.

FARM SECTOR GROWTH PROVIDES THE SILVER LINING

News on the country's economic performance in these stressful times has generally been bleak. The one silver lining on the horizon is the steady rise in farm output. Food grains production, according to the Union agriculture ministry, is estimated to rise 2% for crop year 2020-21 to a new high of over 303 million tonnes (MT) from the earlier 297.5 MT on the back of higher rice, wheat, pulses and coarse cereals production. The crop year is taken from July 1 to June 30. While rice production is projected to cross 120 MT, wheat production will be up to 109 MT from the earlier 107.9 MT. The rain gods too seem to be smiling. Both the Indian Meteorological Department and the private sector Skymet have predicted an above-normal monsoon. Skymet has predicted a 103% rainfall for the June-to-September period this year. This follows above normal rains at 109% and 110% in 2019 and 2020 respectively.

Though some parts of India like Jharkhand and the Northeast may be rain deficient according to IMD, an overall good monsoon will continue to spur agricultural production; private consultant ICRA therefore predicts FY2022 will also see agricultural production rise moderately by 2%. There has been a spin-off effect too on some sectors of industry. Tractor sales have been doing well and rose 34% in March this year, compared to the same period last year. Pesticide and fertiliser, farm equipment and chemical companies too have shown robust results.

What is worrisome is that imbalanced growth—a slowdown in other sectors—will have a negative impact on the rural economy. Lack of purchasing power leading to lower consumption of rural products by other sections of the population will restrict offtake and push down farm prices. This will create a logistical and storage crisis, generating waste. Lower income for farmers has a cyclical effect of squeezing demand for FMCG and other consumer goods, dragging the slowdown longer. The government has to ensure economic growth and job creation are evenly spread in all sectors. Otherwise, our agricultural sector may find itself bogged down by a crisis of plenty.

BATTLING SECOND WAVE OF COVID IN TN

The interim Tamil Nadu government has dived into serious action against Covid by bringing back restrictions in public space, workplaces and educational institutions. Apart from putting off board examinations and asking schools and colleges to strictly adhere to online classes, it has shut open spaces like beaches and zoos. It has also called for a complete lockdown on Sundays.

This has been done to tackle the Covid caseload that touched 10,000 on Sunday after almost seven months. While 40 contract workers at the ISRO Propulsion Complex (IPRC) in Mahendragiri tested positive on Sunday and a manufacturing firm in Erode became a cluster with 84 employees contracting the virus, a leading store chain in Chennai had to shut shop on Monday after 39 employees tested positive. Another disturbing development is the death of a few Covid patients in Vellore Medical College the same day, allegedly due to the snapping of oxygen supply. While health experts have welcomed the new restrictions, they feel the tentacles of the curbs should extend to closed air-conditioned spaces as they will be sure-shot superspreader zones. This is because it is difficult to monitor the adherence to protocol in larger shops, malls and cinema halls, which have been allowed to function with 50% capacity. The government must also reconsider leaving places of worship open. The rationale behind the 10 pm-4 am curfew is also left to ambiguous interpretations. No official has come on record to explain how it will help, considering there is hardly any congregation or movement of people at those hours.

In all this, TN has found itself in an unpredictable situation, being stuck in the interim period between the polls and the results. However buoyant it may be of winning the battle of the ballot, the present AIADMK government needs to take long-term measures to address the health crisis. Moreover, all states are heavily dependent on the Centre for vaccines and oxygen. While TN has created a reasonably good template to handle the mounting pressure since last year, it remains to be seen how it will face the challenge of the second wave.

Between 2009-11, Mamata courageously challenged the Left Front. Today, her party is using every weapon from the CPM armoury to spread terror to retain power

THE REASONS BEHIND MAMATA'S DECLINE IN BENGAL

VINAY SAHASRABUDDHE

President, ICCR, and BJP Rajya Sabha MP

AMIT BANDRE

In West Bengal, every important political party is in the election fray. However, each one of them is fighting for a distinct objective. While the Congress and Left together are struggling for their sheer existence, the ruling Mamata Banerjee-led Trinamool Congress is struggling to regain popular confidence. The BJP, on the other hand and after five rounds of polling, is struggling to further consolidate its edge. This election has become not just interesting but truly historic as well, thanks to several 'first-time-in-history' factors.

For the first time, Hindus in West Bengal are not refusing to see the writing on the wall. The vote bank politics of the Trinamool Congress is now being resolutely challenged by not just the BJP but the people at large as well. Jai Shri Ram has become a powerful articulation of the pent-up anger against minority appeasement. It no more means just the dictionary definition of the slogan. It has become a political clarion call of assertion of cultural identity.

There are at least four reasons for the clearly predictable defeat of Mamata Banerjee. Firstly, her party seems to have lost the very raison d'etre of its politics. Initially it was seen as a force that can honestly and powerfully challenge the hegemony of the Left Front. Between 2009-11, Mamata emerged as a challenger who was set to catch the unruly bull of Left Front politics truly by the horns and overthrow the regime. She fought the battle almost single-handedly. In fact, the Congress party's kid-glove approach towards the atrocious Left Front forced her to challenge the Gandhis and establish a party of grassroots-level Congress workers, rightly named as Trinamool. Sadly, all this became a thing of the past. Today, her party has become a cartel of selfish and corrupt leaders, using every weapon from the Left Front armoury to spread terror to retain power. Her famous slogan of Maa, Mati, Manush has now been reduced to money, muscles and minorities, the three key pillars of Mamata Banerjee's electoral politics today. Many have distanced themselves from the campaign handled by the likes of Prashant Kishor as if he has been given a turn-key contract of ensuring Trinamool victory, while several have already deserted the party. The dominating grip of hired consultants has resulted in complete evaporation of authentic political volunteering. The party is known for neither idealism nor any ideology. And eventually, it has also lost its own identity and become almost a mirror image of the Left Front, against which Mamata had courageously fought.

The second reason for Mamata's unstoppable decline is her becoming the wanton prisoner of her love and affection towards her celebrated nephew, Abhishek Banerjee. Once a firebrand leader who fought against the ruling dynasty of her original party, Mamata today is reduced to a leader blinded by her affection towards her heir apparent, allowing him complete control of the party organisation. Naturally, this has caused huge heartburn among the cadre, forcing several of Ms Banerjee's close confidants to move away.

The third and very important reason is her unabashed indulgence in appeasement of Muslims for the sake of vote bank politics. She has not only disregarded Hindu sentiments all along, but also discriminated between belief systems. A few years ago, she announced honorariums for priests in temples and mosques. However, a priest at a Hindu temple is given less amount as against a priest in a mosque. Besides, for a Hindu priest, producing Aadhaar card and other documents is mandatory whereas a Muslim priest is required to give no such evidence. As a consequence, the number of beneficiaries is much higher among priests in mosques than those working in temples. This is just one example of her rank populist measures disregarding fundamentals of a democratic polity.

The fourth reason for the almost-certain loss of Mamata Banerjee is her bad governance with anti-development policies—again a legacy of her predecessors—at its core. One realises this fact while roaming in the streets of Kolkata. Once described as a City of Joy, this metropolis wears the look of a state capital that has driven away aspirational youths. Signs of poverty, misery and deprivation are there to see on footpaths, by-lanes and semi-slum areas. Mamata did precious little to help the city regain its glory. Her sheer partisan move of painting the roadside railings in blue and white—her party's colours—failed to make the city become more colourful, vibrant and full of life. Absence of industries, tech firms and big trading houses has forced middle class youngsters to desert Kolkata, reducing it to a city of senior and senior-senior citizens. Once a true cultural capital of India, most of its theatre and dance performances or movie shows today witness a diminishing number of young audience. More tragically, this city also appears to be in the grip of political terror as many fear that if they openly canvass for the BJP, Trinamool goons will make their lives extremely difficult.

This huge deficit in her goodwill—her own creation, beyond doubt—has been duly taken advantage of by the BJP. Add to this the Herculean efforts put in by the saffron party's organisation for over six months. The clinching factor, of course, is the confidence that all in West Bengal are reposing in the leadership of PM Narendra Modi.

TIME FOR JAI JAWAN, JAI KISAN, JAI VYAPAR

PRAMOD KABRA

The reforms agenda in public discourse is often focused on monetary policy (inflation control), labour policy (flexible labour markets), fiscal policy (how much to borrow), land acquisition (how to make it easy) and so on. This is what economists, academics, leaders of big corporations and chambers of commerce discuss amongst themselves and with the government. However, if one were to meet the average businessman or a corporate leader and ask him what troubles him, you will probably hear something along the following lines:

"The local village neta and his gang are forcing closure of my factory on the pretext of pollution. Their real purpose is to extract protection money. The police is unwilling to intervene. I can go to the courts but the process takes too long, is expensive and the outcome is uncertain."

"The local community around my factory has a transport union and demands that only their trucks be used to transport goods at exorbitant prices."

"Our royalty dispute with the government is pending before the High Court for the last 10 years and I have no idea how much longer it will take. I also don't know what the courts will decide. In the meanwhile, the amount payable is getting compounded at 18% interest in addition to a penalty that is also accruing interest. I run the risk of going bankrupt."

This is, of course, just a sample of what is plaguing the common businessman. Forget about ease of doing business, we have to deal with the pain of doing business coupled with fear of doing business!

Businessmen often wonder why they are treated like this. After all, they and the people employed by them generate tax revenues that pay for our defence, law and order, roads, education, health and sundry subsidies. When a poor household receives a free LPG cylinder under Ujjwala scheme or gets a housing subsidy under Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana—someone has paid for it. You know who.

Businesses create employment. Today, only 390 million Indians—roughly 40% of the working age population—are employed. Our demographic dividend will come to naught if we don't create opportunities for new entrants in the labour force. We also have to create additional jobs to pull people out of agriculture. Only growing businesses can do this.

Businesses bring new products and technologies. They are responsible for giving us mobile phone services, drones and internet-connected devices, the new Covid-19 vaccine and medicines to treat tuberculosis, to name a few. The advances in artificial intelligence, robotics and genetics will most likely be led by private businesses. Innovations brought by businesses take society and the nation forward. The United States is the superpower of the world because of super-achieving American businesses.

Despite such contributions, there seems to be a deep-rooted culture in the executive and judiciary of seeking rent, taking bribes and keeping businesses servile. Why do we have a culture that is unable or unwilling to distinguish between good businesses and bad ones? For alleged misdeeds of some businesses, why are all of them painted with the same brush: sab chor hai (all are thieves)?

In my view, there is a realisation in sections of the government that this needs to change. Last year the prime minister said—the first time for any Indian PM—that wealth creators need to be respected. This year's Budget boldly planned for privatisation of public enterprises. I also get the same impression watching the recent interviews of Sanjeev Sanyal (principal economic advisor), S Jaishankar (external affairs minister) and Nitin Gadkari (minister for road transport and highways). It seems that the government is thinking through a strategy. My fear though is different. If the mindset of the wider political leadership, bureaucracy, judiciary and people at large doesn't change, any strategy will only have partial success. Peter Drucker famously said "culture eats strategy for breakfast".

What we need is a change of attitude towards businesses. Unless legally, morally and ethically run businesses grow, India cannot progress. It is a job of every citizen, leader and institution to promote businesses.

Many decades ago, in an extraordinarily difficult time, our late Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri gave a clarion call "Jai Jawan, Jai Kisan". Those old enough to remember this era will recall how this slogan moved the entire country in unison to ensure national defence and food security. Today the slogan can perhaps be modified to "Jai Jawan, Jai Kisan, Jai Vyapar". Whatever your opinion of Prime Minister Modi, you must admit that as a leader he commands power and charisma to achieve this cultural change. What we need is the kind of campaigning the prime minister did for Swachh Bharat. We need that kind of zeal and rigour in landing this message through our legislatures, executive and judiciary—that good moral and ethical businesses are critical for the nation's success. That we must go out of our way to enable them. It is important to make the people of India a stakeholder in economic reforms.

Remarks in poor taste

Union Health Minister Harsh Vardhan's remarks about former prime minister Manmohan Singh's letter to the current PM were in poor taste and unwarranted. The health minister must understand that this is not the time to lash out but to accommodate the views of everyone as far as practicable to defeat the pandemic.

K R Srinivasan, Secunderabad

No mockery there

I read the entire letter written by Dr Harsh Vardhan and found no mockery there. The health minister has pointed out that most of the suggestions that appeared in the former PM's letter were already implemented by the Centre. He has further expressed his anguish over the apathy being shown by Congress-led state governments.

Shrikanth Rao, Shivamogga

Learn from first wave

This is with reference to Wisdom in hindsight as second wave caught us off-guard (Apr 20). People should learn lessons from the first wave and not panic. Everyone should take a shot of the vaccine immediately. Our traditional medicinal systems will also help in combating the virus along with adherence to norms like wearing masks and using sanitisers.

R Subburaj, Madurai

Shortsightedness to blame

It's inefficiency, shortsightedness and blame games. Adding fuel to the fire, governments did all that was needed to accelerate Covid spread such as ignoring violations of norms, election rallies sans masks and distancing, and allowing foreign travel unhindered.

K Nehru Patnaik, Visakhapatnam

Greed of rich countries

This is with reference to Covid patent waiver need of the hour (Apr 19). At a time when nations around the world should stand with each other in curtailing the global pandemic, it's unfortunate to see the vaccine nationalism of rich countries. Also, the pharma companies should set aside their profitability aspects and act ethically.

Sriram Venkatachalam, Kovilpatti

Becoming an Italy

In the wake of the massive second Covid wave, positive cases are now near the peak. Many regions are seeing high test positive rates. Amidst this, we had elections in four states and a Union Territory and also the Kumbh Mela. If we don't follow the norms now, we risk becoming a second Italy soon.

The hero we need

Railways pointsman Mayur Shelke's act of bravery saved a child who had fallen on the tracks. He sprinted towards the kid and lifted him on to the platform seconds before a train arrived at Vangani station in Thane district, Maharashtra. He is a real hero and I request the Railways to give him a promotion.

Legend is past his prime

No doubt Mahendra Singh Dhoni has been an inspirational leader of Chennai Super Kings for years, and his mere presence on the field lifts the morale of the team's players. But we must accept the fact that the Jharkhand great is past his prime. He did not bat well in IPL 2020 and his wretched form continues. It is time Dhoni gives way for youngsters in the franchise.

Pilgrimages to far north

This is with reference to Kashmir: A forgotten history - I (Apr 20). As the author points out, Kashmir has been a part of Indic civilisation for millenia. That saints from the far south such as Adi Shankaracharya and Ramanujacharya undertook pilgrimages to Kashmir in the far north according to tradition shows the cultural uniformity, regional diversities notwithstanding.

Venkat Desikan, Chennai

Part of Indic civilisation

Kashmir is presently suffering due to the actions of Pakistan. It is inextricably a part of Indian civilisation. Hence, the special status given to the region earlier was a Himalayan blunder, a mistake that was corrected by the present government.

Health infra pushed to limits, states told to augment capacity

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AS active Covid-19 cases in the country crossed 2-million mark on Tuesday morning, pushing healthcare infrastructure across states to their limits, the Centre asked the states to augment hospital infrastructure in advance for next three weeks.

The number of Covid deaths in the country reached 1,761 in the corresponding 24-hour period, the highest so for, taking total deaths to 1,80,350.

The country now has 20,31,977 active cases while it has recorded 15.3 million confirmed cases so far, the second-highest after the US.

Union home and health secretaries Ajay Bhalla and Rajesh Bhushan, meanwhile, reviewed the pandemic status in Union Territories on Tuesday while noting that from 20,000 cases reported on January 1, India has been registering almost 10 times more cases daily since April 1. Over the last 11 days, new cases have almost doubled from 1.31 lakh reported on April 11 to 2.73 lakh reported on April 11.

All RT-PCR tests and vaccination for Covid-19 are centrally monitored, why not for care delivery and efficient bed allocation at a district level?

Oommen John, health researcher

Expressing concern over the worrying scenario, V K Paul, member, Niti Aayog and head of the national Covid task force, pointed out the criticality of next three weeks and suggested a survey to promptly identify the infected people.

Some experts pointed out that many deaths could be averted. "Many hospital beds are occupied by people who are in hospital as a precautionary measure. This also means that people with severe hypoxia will have to run in search of beds," said public health researcher Oommen John.

These delays accelerate cytokine storm and even when they get a bed it would be too late, he pointed out. John further said in the absence of any coordinated mechanisms people will continue running pillar to post. "This is completely avoidable if only a central response system is set-up.

Cons of vax policy outweigh pros

Experts say liberalisation will affect financially strained states & lead to inequity, price rise

SUMI SUKANYA DUTTA @ New Delhi

A day after the Centre liberalised its Covid-19 vaccination policy, allowing states to procure doses directly from the manufacturers for the first time in Indian history, experts worried over the possible chaos and greater vaccine inequity it could create amid vaccine short supply and financial constraints.

While two vaccines are being used as of now — Covishield by Serum Institute of India and Covaxin by Bharat Biotech — Russian vaccine Sputnik V is likely to be available in limited amounts in the coming weeks.

On Monday, the Centre also made all above 18 years of age eligible for vaccination from May 1. In other words, nearly 94 crore in India are now eligible for the vaccine, while the current production is around 80 million per month.

WHOPPING DEMAND-SUPPLY GAP

Beneficiaries for Covid in India from May 1: 94 crore

Present production capacity of Covishield: 6.5 crore per month

Present production capacity of Covaxin: 1.5 crore per month

The new policy allows manufacturers a free hand to sell 50 per cent of their supply to states as well as in the open market at a pre-declared price. But most specialists felt that the new vaccination regime, especially when supply is scarce, could lead to a bigger mess.

"We have a very well functional and equitable vaccination model in place for many decades under which the Centre procures the vaccines and distributes it among states based on their needs and quota," former Union health secretary Sujatha K Rao told this newspaper. "The new Covid-19 vaccination policy reeks of abdication of responsibilities by the Centre in the face of unprecedented adversity."

Some others said that this policy is akin to inviting 100 people for a party even when there is food only for 20. "And you think all 100 would not turn up," wrote Chandrakant Lahariya, public policy and health systems expert on Twitter. "What could be the situation on the day of feast?"

A senior WHO India official said that it was very disappointing that of all the vaccination strategies possible, the government had chosen "the worst one", adding that the private vaccine makers will benefit the most, people, especially the poor, will be the biggest losers.

"States without any experience in vaccine procurement have been asked to take the programme in their hands. While some of the richer states can manage it to some extent, people in the backward ones will suffer the most."

Health economists stressed that the changed policy, while boosting the demand for vaccines immediately, doesn't talk about how sufficient supply will be generated.

"The bargain for limited supply between states could drive up the prices making vaccines potentially unaffordable to relatively poorer states," said health economist Rijo M John. "It may limit India's ability to contain the pandemic at the national level."

A query seeking response on the concerns expressed by health experts from the Union health ministry and health secretary remained unanswered.

No halt on train services: Goyal

New Delhi: Union railways minister Piyush Goyal on Tuesday said trains will continue to operate despite the pandemic. He refuted claims that that stations are crowded with migrant workers heading home. "Trains are running and there are empty berths which can be booked. There's no overcrowding at the stations," said Goyal.

Modi cancels EU summit visit

New Delhi: Owing to rise in coronavirus cases in the country, PM Modi has cancelled his scheduled visit to Portugal for the India-EU Summit and his visit of France. According to sources, the India-EU Summit which scheduled to be held on May 8 in Lisbon will now be held virtually. Modi has also called of his bilateral visit to France.

SC stays Allahabad HC order on lockdown in UP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday stayed the Allahabad High Court order to implement lockdown in five Uttar Pradesh cities in the wake of the increase in coronavirus cases. The state government has been asked to report to the high court within a week the steps it has taken to tackle the Covid surge.

The HC had ordered a lockdown till April 26 in Lucknow, Prayagraj, Varanasi, Kanpur and Gorakhpur. The UP government refused to enforce it on Monday and approached the Supreme Court on Tuesday.

The UP government through Solicitor General Tushar Mehta argued that locking down five cities by judicial order may not be the right approach and a blanket lockdown imposed by the court would create administrative difficulties. It also said that the HC's order infringed upon the state government's domain.

The HC, while ordering the cities to shut down, had said on Monday that the pandemic had virtually incapacitated the medical infrastructure especially in cities like Prayagraj, Lucknow, Varanasi, Kanpur and Gorakhpur. But the state government said such a lockdown was not needed and it had to protect both lives and livelihoods.

The high court had also ordered a ban on social gatherings, religious activities, and said that shops, educational institutions and shopping malls should be closed. The Supreme Court will take up the case after two weeks.

Cops suspect internal hand in Remdesivir theft in Bhopal

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

THE alleged theft of 863 Remdesivir injections from MP government's Hamidia Hospital in Bhopal might turn out to be a cooked up story, to cover up internal mismanagement. Probe by the state police have led to indicators of major internal involvement in the disappearance of the injections from the hospital's central store.

Probe based on the forensic investigations has revealed that the mesh of the store's window which was found cut, was actually cut from inside. The watchman on duty has told the police he did not notice any suspicious movement.

The police have so far questioned over 30 persons, mostly hospital staff, and found major mismanagement in issuance and usage of the vital anti-viral injection. "Registers were not properly maintained. The store is so badly managed that an outsider will actually take hours to even find one injection. So it's internal involvement behind this case of alleged theft," a source privy to the probe said.

Investigators also think that injections issued in the name of patients admitted at the hospital were handed over to others, particularly in the event of death of the concerned patients. Two to three cases have come to the fore where five injections were issued for a critical patient, who died before all the injections could be administered.

Associate Professor of Neuro Surgery, Dr ID Chaurasia has resigned from the additional charge of joint director and medical superintendent of the hospital.

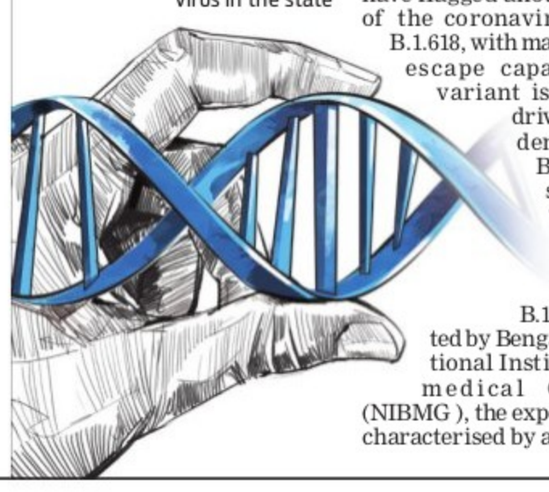
Rajnath directs defence departments to help states in pandemic handling

New Delhi: Amidst the rising number of Covid-19 cases across the country, Defence Minister Rajnath Singh held a virtual meeting on Tuesday to review the preparedness of Ministry of Defence and the armed forces. The defence minister has also advised the army establishments to aid state governments in dealing with the pandemic. Rajnath Singh was briefed about the measures taken by Armed Forces Medical Service (AFMS), Defence Research and Development Organisation (DRDO), Defence Public Sector Undertakings (DPSUs), Ordnance Factory Board (OFB) and other departments of the Ministry of Defence such as National Cadet Corps (NCC) in providing aid to the civil administration. Meanwhile, Army Chief General MM Naravane issued instructions to the army establishments in various states to assist the states in dealing with the pandemic.

ANOTHER MUTANT RAISING ITS UGLY HEAD?

Genome study says...

Proportions of B.1.618 have been growing significantly in recent months in Bengal, and along with B.1.617, it forms a major lineage of the deadly virus in the state



RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

EVEN as the double-mutant Indian variant of SARS-CoV-2 virus is wreaking havoc across the country, genome experts have flagged another lineage of the coronavirus, named B.1.618, with major immune escape capacity. This variant is said to be driving the pandemic in West Bengal and spreading very fast.

Based on the sequences of B.1.618 submitted by Bengal-based National Institute of Biomedical Genomics (NIBMG), the experts say it is characterised by a distinct set of genetic variants including E484K, a major immune-escape variant that can escape monoclonal antibodies and panels of convalescent plasma.

While initial sequences of the B.1.618 lineage have been found in West Bengal, the members of this lineage is also found in other parts of the world but do not have the full complement of the variants as found in India.

Genome sequencing shows that proportions of B.1.618 have been growing significantly in recent months in West Bengal, and along with B.1.617, it forms a major lineage of the deadly virus in the state.

On whether the lineage is more infectious, experts say there are many unknowns for this lineage at this moment, including its capability to cause re-infections as well as vaccine-breakthrough infections, and additional experimental data is required to assess the efficacy of vaccines against this variant.

The current surge in Covid-19 cases in the country is attributed to the double mutant version of the virus. The double mutant (L452R + E484Q) was announced by the National Centre for Disease Control (NCDC) on March 25 after it was identified in samples of saliva taken from people in Maharashtra, Delhi, and Punjab.

The variant has a particularly increased prevalence in Maharashtra, where the strain has been present at a very low frequency since October 2020.

Guwahati: Re-polling in four polling stations under three Assembly constituencies in Assam passed off peacefully on Tuesday. The re-polling was held at Indira MV School falling under Ratabari seat, Madhya Dhanehari LP School under Sonai constituency and Khothlir LP School and Mualdum LP School under Haflong constituency. The Election Commission had ordered re-polling in these polling stations following irregularities on the polling day on April 1.

PRANAB MONDAL @ Kolkata

IN a direct attack on the Election Commission for not clubbing the last three phases of Bengal Assembly elections in the wake of the second Covid wave, Trinamool Congress supremo Mamata Banerjee on Tuesday alleged that it was aimed to give advantage to the BJP and Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

While addressing a rally at Jiaganj, Murshidabad, a region dominated by minorities, Mamata said the poll panel did not listen to Trinamool Congress's request for conducting the last three phases either in one go or in two phases. She also alleged the BJP was hatching a conspiracy to trigger communal discord in Bengal.

"We requested the Election Commission to reconsider its poll schedule. We requested them to club the last three phases considering the pandemic situation. But the poll panel did not pay any heed to our plea. They decided not to change the schedule of the last three phases. It is to help the BJP and PM Modi so that he could keep visiting the state and address more rallies," Mamata said.

Trinamool Congress supremo Mamata Banerjee addresses a public meeting at Bhagawangola in Murshidabad | BIBHASH LODH

She said her party had already decided not to organise mega rallies in Kolkata.

"We will hold only one rally on April 26 in Kolkata. In districts, I have shortened my speeches while addressing rallies," she said. Mamata has lambasted the election panel on several occasions in the recent past accusing it of acting at BJP's behest.

While addressing the rally, Mamata urged the people of the minority-dominated area to be alert as the BJP was "trying to trigger communal discord". "The BJP is trying to trigger riots in Bengal. Do not fall in their trap. Be alert and do vote," she said.

In the wake of the second Covid wave, the CPI-M has already announced it would not organise any major rally or road show. It will be more focused on small street corner meetings and using social media platforms to carry out its campaign.

The TMC shot off a letter to Chief Electoral Officer Aariz Aftab on Tuesday, urging him to consider the party's request amid the steep hike in Covid-19 cases.

Didi calls Centre's vaccine for all plan 'empty rhetoric'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

THE Centre's decision to allow Covid-19 vaccine to those above 18 years of age is "tactical indulgence in empty rhetoric," West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee said on Tuesday, lambasting the BJP-led Centre for "shying away from its responsibilities".

In a letter to the Prime Minister, Mamata said Centre's decision does not address major issues such as ensuring the quality, efficacy and stable supply of vaccines. She also sought to remind the government how her request for the Central nod to purchase vaccines directly with the state's fund for free vaccination was ignored.

She expressed doubts over the plan to vaccinate all adults, saying vaccine manufacturers are hardly prepared to meet the nationwide demand. She requested Modi to ensure a fair, transparent and credible vaccination policy.

"When the number of cases in the second wave of Covid is spiraling, the Centre has chosen to tactically indulge in empty rhetoric and shy away from its responsibility for making vaccines available to the people of the country," she wrote in her one-page letter. "The announcement does not address major issues such as ensuring the quality, efficacy, stable supply and also the price at which vaccines are to be purchased by states," she noted.

Mamata also suspected that the Centre's policy would add to people's financial burden. "It is apprehended that the policy might lead to unscrupulous mechanisms in the market, including pricing of vaccines as it appears to be based on market prices which may put the common people under huge financial burden," she said.

India among riskiest places to be a journo

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

AN annual report put out by Reporters Without Borders on Tuesday listed India among the countries considered the most dangerous places in the world for journalists.

India ranks 142 among 180 countries for the second year in a row in the 2021 World Press Freedom Index, published by the NGO.

The report said Prime Minister Narendra Modi has tightened his government's grip on media. It accused the supporters of the ruling BJP of creating an "intimidating environment" for journalists critical of the government, who are routinely labelled as "anti-national" or "anti-state".

Journalists were exposed to "every kind of attack, including police violence, ambushes by political activists, and reprisals instigated by criminal groups or corrupt local officials," it said. The report also criticised the new IT rules which were brought in to regulate social media content and content on digital news sites.

While Nepal ranked 106, Sri Lanka ranked 127. Pakistan and Bangladesh ranked 145 and 152 respectively.

The World Press Freedom Index evaluated the press situations in 180 countries. The latest report concluded that 73 per cent of the world's nations have serious issues with media freedoms. It says countries have used the pandemic "as grounds to block journalists' access to information, sources and reporting in the field."

This is particularly the case in Asia and parts of Europe, the report noted.

Past consensus can't be ignored: Indian envoy

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

INDIA asserted that the significance of the consensus reached between New Delhi and Beijing cannot be brushed under the carpet and called for the complete disengagement of troops to rebuild ties strained by "serious incidents" along the Line of Actual Control.

Vikram Misri

Indian ambassador to China Vikram Misri, in an address at the ICWA-CPIFA virtual dialogue, called out Beijing for ignoring significant consensus reached by the two countries.

"I should point out that consensus was reached in the past as well, for instance the consensus that I just referred to on the importance of maintaining peace and tranquility. And it is important to stick to it. We have seen a tendency in some quarters to sweep this situation under the carpet and characterise it as just a minor issue and a matter of perspective. This too is inadvisable as it can only take us further away from a sustained solution to present difficulties and deeper into an unfulfilling stalemate," Misri said.

In an apparent reference to Belt and Road Initiative and the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor, Misri said, in a multi-polar world, no country can set an agenda for themselves without agreements from others. The envoy said the border mechanism remained the key in maintaining peace that led to a growth in ties between 1988 and 2019. "But we must acknowledge that these enabling structures and the fundamental premise of the closer developmental partnership have been placed under strain by the serious incidents and the resultant violation of peace in eastern Ladakh in April 2020 and thereafter," Misri said.

HCs told to adopt Draft Rules of Criminal Practice

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE Supreme Court on Tuesday directed all High Courts to adopt the Draft Rules of Criminal Practice, 2021 as part of the rules governing criminal trials in the country.

It has also directed the high courts to ensure that the existing rules, notifications, orders, and practice directions are suitably modified and promulgated within six months.

"If the state government's co-operation is necessary in this regard, the approval of the concerned department or departments, and the formal notification of the said Draft Rules, shall be made within the said period of six months," a bench headed by Chief Justice of India S A Bobde said. The apex court also directed the state governments, as well as the Centre to carry out necessary amendments to their police manuals within six months.

High courts have also been asked to hold a preliminary case management hearing at the beginning of all criminal trials.

"This hearing may take place immediately after the framing of the charge. In this hearing, the court should consider the total number of witnesses, and classify them as an eyewitness, material witness, formal witness (who would be asked to produce documents, etc), and experts," the bench said.

The Draft Rules of Criminal Practice, 2021 deals with various aspects of criminal trial including post mortem report, charge, trial, recording of evidence among others.

According to the draft rules, as per every medico-legal certificate, post-mortem report shall contain a printed format of the human body on its reverse. Injuries, if any, shall be indicated on the sketch.

Report addiction or face fine in Arunachal

PRASANTA MAZUMDAR @ Guwahati

WITH Arunachal Pradesh seeing an alarming rise in cases of drug addiction, the state government has decided to make it mandatory for government employees who are addicted to drugs to report their addiction to senior officers.

"The government will be issuing a notification very soon, asking all employees to report about their addiction to drugs, if any, to their senior officers," Chief Minister Pema Khandu said. The government will issue a deadline to report, after which if any government employee is found to have unreported addiction, she or he will face legal actions, the chief minister warned.

Official sources said both natural as well as synthetic drugs are being used by addicts, who include women and children. Addiction to opium is widespread in the eastern districts of the state.

"Drug addiction in Arunachal is above the alarming level. Around 13-15 districts are affected by the menace of synthetic drug addiction. We are all concerned," Oli Koyu, who is the Nodal Officer of State Anti-Narcotic Bureau, told this newspaper on Tuesday.

Locals say the youth, especially from urban areas, are increasingly falling prey to synthetic drugs.

"A lot of people in the eastern Arunachal districts grow opium to earn a living. We have to give them an alternative livelihood option," Koyu said.

SC gives fillip to Great Indian Bustard conservation with underground cable order

RAJESH ASNANI @ Jaipur

IN a major judgment seeking to save the critically-endangered Great Indian Bustard, the Supreme Court has directed the governments of Rajasthan and Gujarat to replace high-voltage overhead power cables with underground ones to prevent accidental electrocution of the heavyset birds. The order passed by a bench headed by Chief Justice S A Bobde was the result of a protracted legal battle, in which the petitioner submitted that the Great Indian Bustard found it difficult to manoeuvre easily in flight, leading to its getting electrocuted after colliding with overhead transmission lines.

Representing the petitioner, senior advocate Shyam Divan argued that Article 48A of the Constitution makes it the duty

With the demand for Remdesivir rising with a surge in the number of critical Covid patients, the Jharkhand state government has sought permission from the Centre to import 50,000 vials of the Covid-19 drug from a Bangladeshi pharmaceuticals company. Chief Minister Hemant Soren has written a letter to Union Cabinet Minister DV Sadanand Gowda seeking permission to import the drug as soon as possible. The letter said that the supply from Indian manufacturers has fallen short amid high demand, which has led the state to seek its import from the international market. With 46 new fatalities, the toll from Covid-19 rose to 1,502 in Jharkhand on Tuesday

TERRORISM ALONG AFGHAN BORDER

US CONTINUES TALKS WITH PAKISTAN

Pentagon Press Secretary John Kirby says Prez Joe Biden is clear on withdrawal of US troops from Afghanistan by Sept 22

WASHINGTON

THE United States continues to have a dialogue with Pakistan on issues related to terrorism along the border with Afghanistan, the Pentagon has said.

"We continue to have a dialogue with Pakistan about terrorist issues along that border with Afghanistan. I think it's helpful to remind that they too have suffered from terrorist attacks inside their country," Pentagon Press Secretary John Kirby told reporters at a news conference here.

Responding to a question, Kirby said President Joe Biden is clear on withdrawal of American troops from Afghanistan by September 22.

"The president was clear. We are removing US forces from Afghanistan and will maintain the sufficient counter terrorism capabilities we need to detect and prevent threats to our homeland that could emanate from Afghanistan," Kirby said. Once the US leaves Afghanistan, he said, they expect the sovereignty of Afghanistan to be respected.

He was responding to a question on reports that Beijing is considering sending a peacekeeping force to Afghanistan once the US pulls out which will be deployed at the neighbouring province it has with Afghanistan across that 44-mile border.

"We certainly wouldn't speak for another nation and obviously we would call on all of Afghanistan's neighbours to respect its sovereignty and to respect its territory integrity as well," he said.

The US, he said, is removing all military personnel from Afghanistan.

"We will remove them by early September. All of them with the exception of what's going to be required to protect the diplomatic mission in Afghanistan," he said. PTI

Pak surrenders to radical outfit, tables resolution to expel French ambassador

ISLAMABAD/LAHORE

SUCCUMBING to Islamists' demands, Pakistan's Imran Khan-led government on Tuesday decided to introduce a resolution in Parliament to expel the French ambassador and quash all criminal cases filed against the banned radical Islamist party Tehreek-e-Labbaik Pakistan (TLP) after they reached a deal following a marathon round of talks.

The agreement came a day after Prime Minister Khan said the expulsion of the ambassador was not a solution to stop incidences of blasphemy in the western world.

"Under a marathon round of talks and an agreement reached with TLP, a resolution on the expulsion of the French ambassador will be presented on Tuesday in the National Assembly,' Interior Minister Sheikh Rashid said in a video statement. The cases against TLP workers, registered under terrorism charges, will also be quashed. Besides, the names of TLP leaders from the Fourth Schedule will be taken off, Rashid said.

The expulsion of the French ambassador is one of the main four demands of the radical Islamist party, which was banned last week after its members staged violent anti-France protests across the country. On Monday, the National Assembly session was adjourned to meet again on April 22. However, shortly after the minister's statement, a session of the lower house of Parliament was summoned in the late afternoon.

Hours later, Amjad Ali Khan of the ruling Pakistan Tehreek-e-Insaf (PTI) party presented the resolution in the National Assembly.

Technically, it was not an official document as it was moved by a member in his private capacity, but it was accepted for discussion.

The resolution condemned the publication of blasphemous caricatures by French magazine Charlie Hebdo in September last year and expressed regret over the French's president "encouragement of the elements hurting sentiments of the hundreds of Muslims for freedom of expression."

Chad prez killed after being in power for 30 yrs

N'DJAMENA

CHADIAN President Idriss Deby Itno, who ruled the central African nation for more than three decades, was killed on the battlefield on Tuesday while fighting rebels, the military announced on national television and radio.

An 18-month transitional council will be led by Deby's 37-year-old son, Mahamat Idriss Deby Itno, the military said, also imposing a nightly curfew of 6pm.

The announcement came just hours after electoral officials had declared Deby the winner of the April 11 presidential election, paving the way for him to stay in power for six more years.

The circumstances of Deby's death could not immediately be independently confirmed due to the remote location of the battlefield. It was not known why the president visited the frontlines in northern Chad or participated in ongoing clashes with the rebels who opposed his rule. Deby, a former army commander-in-chief, first came to power in 1990 when his rebel forces overthrew then President Hissene Habre, who was later convicted of human rights abuses at an international tribunal in Senegal.

Over the years, Deby had survived numerous armed rebellions and managed to stay in power until this latest insurgency led by a group calling itself the Front for Change and Concord in Chad. The rebels are believed to have armed and trained in neighbouring Libya before crossing into northern Chad on April 11.

Deby was a major French ally in the fight against Islamic extremism in Africa, hosting the base for the French military Operation Barkhane and supplying critical troops to the peacekeeping effort in northern Mali. AP

Japanese businessmen brighten up makeup industry amid pandemic

TOKYO

THE coronavirus pandemic has pushed many businesses in Japan to the edge of financial ruin, but Takumi Tezuka, who owns a makeup and hair salon for men in Tokyo, has seen his customer base expand.

Japanese businessmen in their 40s, 50s and 60s who had little interest in cosmetics before the pandemic are increasingly visiting Tezuka's salon, Ikemen-Works, hoping for a better look in online meetings.

A large personal care company, Shiseido, says one of its male makeup lines has seen double-digit growth during the pandemic. Company officials give a similar reason: Men, confronted with the sight of their faces repeatedly during online meetings, want to improve what they see.

"Before, most of our customers were males in their teens and 20s, but thanks to remote work we now have more businessmen," said Tezuka.

Unlike many younger men, who want a drastic makeover, older businessmen want to show a slightly better version of themselves by using makeup, he said.

"Men in their 40s, 50s, and 60s come to our salon because they feel they must wear makeup," he said. Tezuka said that's because businessmen who work from home have more opportunities to see their faces during online meetings and have thus started to care more about their looks.

The men's beauty industry has been expanding in Japan. According to research company Fuji Keizai Group, the men's cosmetic market grew from about 600 billion yen ($5.5 billion) to an estimated 623 billion yen ($5.7 billion) from 2018 to 2019. Tezuka said older businessmen tend to spend more money and visit more regularly than those in their 20s and 30s.

One customer, Yoshihiro Kamichi, 44, recently came to Tezuka's salon to buy makeup for the first time.

Govt waives import duty on Remdesivir

Duties on Remdesivir injections and Beta Cyclodextrin, used in the manufacture of Remdesivir, have also been waived

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

THE government on Tuesday waived import duty on Covid-19 drug Remdesivir, its raw materials and other essential components used to make the antiviral drug in a bid to help reduce the cost of the injection amid a massive surge in demand. Sources say that the government is also likely to waive customs duties levied on imported vaccines as it tries to boost supplies to counter the spike in Covid-19 cases.

According to a notification from the Department of Revenue, "the central government, on being satisfied that it is necessary in the public interest to do so, hereby exempts the goods...when imported into India, from the whole of the duty of customs leviable".

The duty has been waived on Remdesivir active pharmaceutical ingredients (APIs), injection Remdesivir, and beta Cyclodextrin used in manufacture of Remdesivir, until October 31, 2021. Earlier this month, the Centre banned export of the injection and its APIs till the situation improves.

The government may also waive the customs duty levied on imported vaccines ahead of opening Covid-19 vaccination to all over 18 years of age. "A customs duty waiver is being considered. The government is going to announce it very soon to ease the supply of vaccines. A final decision will be taken in a day or two," said a finance ministry official.

— Finance Ministry official

Currently, the government levies 10 per cent customs or import duty plus a 16.5 per cent I-GST and social welfare surcharge on vaccines coming from overseas. These taxes would make the imported vaccines costlier than the ones made by Serum Institute of India and Bharat Biotech. Russia's Sputnik V vaccines, meanwhile, are due to arrive this month or latest by next month, while Moderna and Johnson and Johnson have been urged to seek emergency use approval in India. Discussion on duty exemption started sometime in December last year when global manufacturers such as Pfizer sought approval to supply its vaccines to India, said officials. With 2.59 lakh new infections, the caseload has crossed 1.53 crore, making India the second-worst affected nation after the US. Deaths from Covid crossed 1.8 lakh.

India's GDP growth forecasts slashed amid second wave

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

THE rapid rise in the number of Covid-19 cases and the subsequent imposition of severe restrictions by state governments to contain the spread is forcing ratings and research agencies to slash down India's GDP growth forecasts for the current financial year. While ICRA Ratings cut down the upper end of its earlier 10-11 per cent GDP growth forecast for FY22 to 10-10.5 per cent on Tuesday, a Nomura estimate slashed the expected GDP growth for calendar year 2021 to 11.5 per cent from 12.4 per cent.

According to Nomura, its India Business Resumption Index (NIBRI), a dashboard tracking various high-frequency indicators, has fallen by around 16 percentage points (pp) below pre-pandemic normal as of April 18, compared to around 12 pp lower during the previous week.

"While lockdown stringency has not increased since last week, this may be temporary, as states could impose stricter restrictions in response to the burdening of hospital infrastructure. This suggests the economic impact of the second wave could intensify in coming weeks, particularly through the mobility route, with the downside risk of spreading to the wider economy, even as power demand and labour participation rate so far remain largely unaffected," the agency noted in its report. However, it also added that overall, although data suggests a clear sign of sequential moderation in April, its analysts "believe that the second-wave impact on the economy remains far more benign than the first wave".

ICRA, meanwhile, said, "For Q1 FY2022 (April-June 2021), we had earlier expected a GDP expansion of 27.5 per cent, boosted by the low base. With the unprecedented surge in cases and evolving restrictions, the pace of GDP growth in the ongoing quarter may be tempered to 20-25 per cent". Going on, it said that the recent surge in Covid-19 cases has resulted in a dip in consumer confidence and reignited uncertainty regarding the near-term outlook. ICRA noted that momentum has eased for domestic airlines' passenger traffic in March, and that a similar slackening has been recorded in vehicle registrations, electricity demand, and generation of GST e-way bills during April 2021. While the economy had witnessed a broad-based improvement in growth during March, this offered "limited solace in light of the recent rise in coronavirus infections and the proliferation of restrictions that is currently underway".

MARCH QUARTER

Nestle India Q1 net profit up 14.6% on robust domestic sales

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

RIDING on the spike in home consumption, FMCG major Nestle India on Tuesday reported a net profit of ₹602.25 crore for the quarter ended March 31, up 14.6 per cent, compared to ₹525.43 crore in the corresponding quarter of the previous fiscal. The maker of Maggi noodles follows the January-December period as the financial year.

During the quarter under review, the company's revenue from operations stood at 3,610.82 crore, up 8.6 per cent. Domestic sales achieved double-digit growth of 10.2 per cent, on a strong growth base in Q1 2020 largely driven by volume and mix. "As the pandemic rages on, the quarter gone by has been another test of resilience of my team and our partners. Key products like Maggi Noodles, Kitkat, Nescafé Classic, Maggi Sauces, Milkmaid, Maggi Masala-Ae-Magic, among others, delivered robust performance and achieved double-digit growth," said Suresh Narayanan, chairman and managing director at Nestle India.

During the quarter, sales from e-commerce channels grew by 66 percent year-on-year and contributed an unprecedented 3.8 per cent towards its domestic sales.

"Nestle India reported strong first quarter results with overall numbers marginally ahead of our expectations," said Abneesh Roy, Executive Vice President, Edelweiss Securities.

"The good part was both gross margins and EBITDA margins expanded strongly. This is a very rare feat during the quarter for consumer companies, most companies will see a gross margin compression," he said. Earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, and amortization (EBITDA) margin or operating profit saw expansion of 168bps and gross margin expanded by 223bps year-on-year. In the case of out-of-home channels, demand improvedfurther but it continues to be impacted by the Covid-19 pandemic. Similarly, exports continued to disappoint, falling 12.9 per cent over the previous year.

Meanwhile, the company pointed out that recent "sharp escalations" in key raw material prices is posing a challenge. It specially pointed out the headwinds in commodity and packaging materials.

'Stocked adequately'

Britannia Industries CEO Varun Berry on Tuesday said that the company has stocked its distributors adequately to meet any potential surge in demand. It has also implemented a new real-time dealer management to ensure quick conversion of orders.

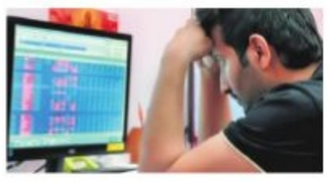
Choppy trade: Sensex extends losses, Nifty closes below 14,300

SUNITHA NATTI

VOLATILITY has gripped Indian benchmark indices as markets are being weighed down by worries of localised lockdowns, which would further slowdown economic recovery.

On Tuesday, Sensex plunged over 1,000 points from day's high to hit a low of 47,438 during intra-day trade, while NSE's 50-share index hit a intraday low of 14,207 before settling at 14,296 levels, down 63 point s or 0.44 per cent. About 27 of the 50 constituents ended the day in red. Sensex, too, staged a mild recovery to close at 47,706, down 244 points or 0.5 per cent.

What's troubling investors is the rapid rise in Covid-19 infections, prompting state governments to impose curfews restricting economic activity. While Maharashtra tightened norms allowing shops to stay open only between 7 am and 11 am, Telangana imposed night curfews, Jharkhand and Delhi announced a complete lockdown for a week.



In fact, such localised restrictions or even the slightest prospect of such instances is irking investors worldover. Japanese shares too fell by their most in a month on Tuesday fearing restrictions, with only one of the Tokyo Stock Exchange's 33 industry sub-indexes closing higher. Similarly, Sri Lankan shares too fell for a third straight session weighed by a slump in industrial and financial stocks. In contrast, South Korean stocks closed at an all-time high as a weaker dollar spurred foreign buying ahead of earnings from carmakers and tech firms.

Both the currency (won) and the benchmark bond yields rose. The uncertainty hasn't spared even the dollar, which dropped to its lowest in nearly seven weeks during the Asian session on Tuesday.

The greenback fell so far in April as US bond yields retreated from the 14-month highs touched last month. The moves are a reverse to what happened in Q1, when the dollar strengthened as US Treasury yields rose offering higher returns. Indian rupee weakened sharply crossing 75 levels against the dollar this month and experts believe it could go further to 76 levels. The steady decline forced the US Treasury to put India along with 10 other economies including Singapore, Thailand and Mexico on the Monitoring List needing close attention to their currency practices. However, India maintained that it doesn't see any logic in the US' action.

Boeing 737 Max to fly over Indian airspace

New Delhi: National aviation regulator, the Directorate General of Civil Aviation (DGCA), on Tuesday issued an order allowing foreign-registered Boeing 737 Max aircraft to fly over the Indian airspace after taking its permission and also allowed foreign registered aircraft to be ferried out of the country. It, however, did not outrightly lift a ban on the aircraft that has been grounded in India since March 2019, following two fatal crashes involving the aircraft globally. The decision by the DGCA will allow foreign lessors to take these aircraft back to their countries of operations. SpiceJet had to ground 12 Max planes when the ban was imposed.

M NARASIMHAM, FATHER OF BANKING REFORMS, PASSES AWAY

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

FORMER Reserve Bank of India (RBI) Governor Maidavolu Narasimham passed away in Hyderabad on Tuesday.

The 94-year-old was the first and so far the only Governor to be appointed from the Reserve Bank cadre, having joined the Bank as a Research Officer in the Economic Department. He later joined the Government and prior to his appointment as Governor he served as Additional Secretary, Department of Economic Affairs. He had a short tenure of seven months. He later served as Executive Director for India at the World Bank and thereafter at the IMF after which he served in the Ministry of Finance as Secretary The recommendations of the two committees he headed – Committee on the Financial System, 1991 and the Committee of Banking Sector Reforms, 1998 – formed the bedrock of reforms in the Indian financial and banking sectors. Some of the key recommendations of these committees include government reducing controlling stake in public sector banks to make these institutions more autonomous and reforming the role of the RBI in the financial system.

CABINET APPROVES HANDOUTS FOR 2.4 MN, PLANS MORE

Thailand's cabinet on Tuesday approved an additional 3.04 billion baht ($97.4 million) for a current handout scheme which will cover another 2.4 million people as the country deals with a third coronavirus wave. The scheme was first approved for 31.1 million, worth about 20.1 billion baht, in January during a second virus wave. The money can be used until the end of June, extended for another month, the government said. About 200 billion baht ($6.4 billion) under the scheme has been injected into the economy, according to the finance ministry. The government also plans to introduce more economic stimulus measures to help ease the virus impact. The new outbreak, which includes a highly contagious variant, have caused over 16,000 infections in three weeks, dealing a further blow to Thailand's tourism-reliant economy. The spread, which accounts for a third of Thailand's cases so far, comes as the country takes tentative steps to reopen to foreign visitors after a year of tightened entry controls. Last week, the government said its economic growth target of 4 per cent this year might be missed.

MALAYSIA

ECONOMIC RECOVERY LAGS BEHIND APAC PEERS

Malaysia may experience a delay in economic recovery, specifically in raising the growth of the country's GDP to match the peaked growth in the last quarter of 2019 prior to the Covid-19 pandemic hit, according to Moody's Analytics. Based on the research firm's estimation, Malaysia will likely surpass its peaked economic growth in Q2 of 2022, only ahead of the Philippines and lagging behind other APAC peers. It added that by the end of 2021, only Thailand, Malaysia and the Philippines will still be struggling to reach this point of their economic recovery. Looking at the entire region, Moody's said, APAC will continue to recover from last year's deep downturn as vaccines become widely available, while global demand for goods improves and local domestic economies strengthen on the back of pent-up consumer demand. On the positive side, the research house predicts that Malaysia will benefit from the close trade linkages between the APAC countries as the Chinese economy is on the rise.

JAPAN

BOJ WARNS OF POTENTIAL FINANCIAL SYSTEM RISKS

Japanese financial institutions have become more exposed to market risks triggered by non-bank and overseas funds, the central bank warned on Tuesday, in the wake of losses caused by the collapse of family office Archegos Capital Management. While the BoJ made no direct mention of Archegos, the focus on overseas funds underscores its caution over the impact of their behaviour on domestic financial institutions. Since the global financial crisis in 2018, Japan's financial sector has become increasingly linked to global market moves as foreign investment funds pile into the country and domestic banks invest more in overseas securities, the BoJ said. That has increased overlaps in portfolios between domestic and foreign financial institutions, the central bank said in a semi-annual report analysing Japan's banking system. The collapse of Archegos, which defaulted on margin calls late last month and triggered a fire sale of stocks across Wall Street, has led to huge losses among some investment banks including Japan's Nomura Holdings Inc and the securities unit of Mitsubishi UF Financial Group Inc.

Indian oil and gas production dives in FY21

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Chennai

THE impact of the disruptions caused by the pandemic combined with various other factors have resulted in India's crude oil and natural gas production falling sharply during the previous financial year ended March 31. (FY21).

"Crude oil production during March, 2021 was 2612.96 TMT,which is 5.63 per cent lower than target and 3.13 per cent lower when compared with March, 2020. Cumulative crude oil production during April-March, 2020-21 was 30491.77 TMT which is 5.65 per cent and 5.22 per cent lower than target for the period and production during corresponding period of last year respectively," a ministry statement said. Natural Gas production during March, meanwhile, was 2683.90 million standard cubic meters —11.11 per cent higher when compared to March 2020, but 15.11 per cent lower than the monthly target. Meanwhile, Tuesday saw global crude prices exhibit marked volatility, trading at $65.6 per barrel at 9 pm.

Hero MotoCorp to halt production temporarily

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

INDIA's largest two-wheeler maker Hero MotoCorp has decided to suspend manufacturing at all its plants in light of the ongoing surge in spread of Covid-19 across the country. The shutdown, which is temporary and includes the global parts centre (GPC), is a first by a two-wheeler maker in this financial year. Last year, around this time, all automakers had to shut their plant and offices for a month due to the mandatory nationwide lockdown.

"In keeping with its commitment to the safety and welfare of its people, Hero MotoCorp has decided to proactively halt operations temporarily at all of its manufacturing facilities," Hero MotoCorp said in a statement. But, the decision will not impact the company's ability to meet the demand, which has been impacted due to localized shut-downs in many states and production loss will be compensated during the remainder of the quarter, it added. Inventory level at Hero dealership is pegged at 45–60 days. It may also be noted that the decision comes at a time when demand for two-wheelers continue to contract due to restrictions and poor economic condition of buyers. According to Federation of Automobile Dealers Associations (FADA), retail 2Wheeler sales fell by a whopping 35.26 per cent in March 2021 to 11,95,445 units as against 18,46,613 units sold in the same month last year. To be sure, Hero's retail sales fell by nearly 50 per cent year-on-year in March, said FADA.

Currently, Hero MotoCorp has eight manufacturing facilities, including six in India and one each in Colombia and Bangladesh.

In India, the plants are located at Dharuhera and Gurugram in Haryana, at Chittoor in Andhra Pradesh, at Haridwar in Uttarakhand, at Neemrana in Rajasthan and at Halol in Gujarat. The company has an annual combined manufacturing capacity of nearly ten units per annum.

Bajaj launches new Pulsar NS 125 at ₹93,690

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

BAJAJ Auto on Tuesday launched the new Pulsar NS125 at ₹93,690. With the latest launch, the carmaker's Pulsar line-up has grown to ten models while the NS range now has three models. Targeted at young enthusiasts, the Pulsar NS 125 is powered by a 125cc BS6 DTS-i engine that delivers a power of 12 PS and a peak torque of 11 Nm. The Nitrox Mono-shock absorbers offer great stability even at high speeds, the company said in a statement.

Entry sport segment

The company said it is targeting first-time sport biking enthusiasts with its NS 125 model.

Unlike the higher-capacity NS models, this one uses not only a smaller engine, but a simpler one. It's 7kg lighter than the NS160 at 144kg.

The NS 125 stands on 17-inch alloy wheels and gets a 240mm front disc and 130mm rear drum with CBS. The ground clearance is 179mm. The new offering comes in four colour options including Beach Blue, Fiery Orange, Burnt Red and Pewter Grey. "We are excited to bring the pedigree of the higher cc Pulsar NS series bikes, for first-time performance riding enthusiasts. The Pulsar 125 has been well received by consumers and we are confident that the new NS 125 will further strengthen the brand's position in the Entry Sport Bike segment," said Sarang Kanade, President - Motorcycles, Bajaj Auto.

At ₹93,690, the NS125 costs around ₹16,000 less than the NS160. However, it costs ₹20,000 more than the standard Bajaj Pulsar125. What hasn't changed is the styling. The NS125 looks identical to its larger siblings when it comes to the design. Both have similar body panels.

Tottenham appoint Mason as interim manager

Ryan Mason will lead Tottenham into the English League Cup final against Manchester City on Sunday as the youngest manager in the club's history after being installed as the replacement for the fired Jose Mourinho until the end of the season. The 29-year-old Mason retired from playing in 2018 on medical advice after failing to fully recover from a fractured skull suffered in a match.

Amid Covid concern, ICC to take final call on T20 WC by June

VENKATA KRISHNA B @Chennai

WITH India in the grip of a strong Covid-19 second wave, the International Cricket Council (ICC) is expected to take a final call on whether the upcoming T20 World Cup can be hosted here by June. Even though the tournament scheduled for October-November is still six months away, there are concerns whether India — which is the second-most affected Covid-19 nation in the world — would be a safe place to host the event.

A clear picture was expected after the ICC's recce team scheduled to visit India later this month accessed the ground situation. But there are indications that the trip could be postponed in the wake of the increasing numbers in the country. As far as the BCCI goes, it is confident that it can host the event and believes the successful conduct of the ongoing IPL will establish its ability. It is understood that the BCCI will cite the current vaccination drive to leverage some more time, at least till the end of July, but whether the ICC is prepared to wait remains to be seen.

What is making things complicated is that India is in the red-list of UK government, which makes it mandatory for their citizens to be placed in quarantine at state-approved hotels. There are similar restrictions for those entering New Zealand and Australia. In a such a scenario, their respective teams may have reservations to travel to India.

"It is still a work in progress. If the situation improves, then India can still host it. But not at nine venues as proposed by the BCCI. There is still enough time to consider the pros and cons and since it is an evolving situation, any decision has to be taken in the interest of all concerned parties. Safety cannot be compromised," a source familiar with the development told this paper.

Even if the tournament stays in India, there is a strong likelihood that the ICC will not agree to host the tournament in nine venues as proposed by the BCCI. The Indian board has picked Mumbai, New Delhi, Chennai, Kolkata, Bengaluru, Hyderabad, Dharamsala, Lucknow and Ahmedabad as host cities. Having so many venues means the ICC has to set up bio-bubbles in each of these cities which will not only add to the cost but also logistically will be more challenging.

Last month, ICC's interim CEO Geoff Allardice said they have back-up plans in place should India be not able to host the event. The ICC had picked the UAE and Sri Lanka as alternate venues to host the 2021 edition and with the gulf region also among severely affected, the Island nation, is likely to be narrowed down as back-up. Sri Lanka has already hosted the event in 2012 and on April 19, reported only 309 new cases as of Tuesday.

EUROPEAN FOOTBALL IN CRISIS

Some 48 hours after it was out in the open, the crisis that has engulfed European football continues. Here's some updates on Tuesday.

DAY AFTER

CHELSEA, MANCHESTER CITY AND ATLETICO MADRID 'PULL OUT'

The future of the Super League looks bleak after several UK media reported that Chelsea, Manchester City and Atletico Madrid have decided to withdraw from the tournament. It came soon after hundreds of Chelsea supporters staged a protest outside the Stamford Bridge prior to the team's Premier League match against Brighton. Former Chelsea goalkeeper Petr Cech, now the club's technical advisor, had come out of the stadium in a bid to persuade fans to clear the roads before news of their impending withdrawal broke.

ARE THERE ANY FURTHER REACTIONS FROM THE FOOTBALLING BODIES?

Yes, FIFA, the world governing body, came down on the rebels. "It is our task to protect the European sport model, so if some elect to go their own way then they must live with the consequences of their choices," said Gianni Infantino, head of FIFA, at UEFA's congress in Switzerland. Alexander Ceferin, head of UEFA, said: "There's still time to change your mind. Everyone makes mistakes," said the Slovenian. "English fans deserve to have you correct your mistake, they deserve respect."

WHAT'S THE MOOD IN THE UK GOVERNMENT?

With the Premier League one of the greatest sporting exports and success stories, it's understandable they have gone fast and hard. UK's culture and sports secretary, Oliver Dowden, said the government is committed to putting anything on the table 'to prevent this from happening'. While nobody knows what authority the government does have in this scenario, it's likely this could well end up in the courts if the government does get involved.

WHAT'S THE MOOD AMONG THE DOZEN CLUBS?

While the owners themselves haven't talked, Real Madrid president, Fiorentina Perez, in a late night talk show in Spain, said the sport 'has to change'. He told listeners that people in age-group 16-24 were no longer interested in the sport and there were too many poor quality matches. Bizarrely, he also football matches are too long. Juventus' Andrea Agnelli, one of the main men behind this project said this enables European football to be 'transformed'.

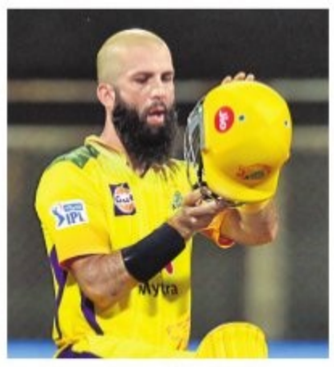
HAVE THE MANAGERS SAID ANYTHING?

This is where it gets tricky. Some of them were fed to the media on Monday night without a word from the owners. However, Pep Guardiola, Man City boss, seemingly criticised his own employer's decision to align with the rebels. "Sport is not a sport when the success is guaranteed, and when the relation between the effort and reward don't exist. It's not a sport when it doesn't matter if you lose. It's not fair if teams fight at the top and cannot qualify," he said. Even Liverpool manager Jurgen Klopp said he hoped the Super League doesn't happen.

Moeen-frame of CSK

England all-rounder's ability has provided balance to the team

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN @Chennai



IDENTIFYING a problem is only one step to addressing it. Successfully and immediately troubleshooting it is what makes a good team. In the 2020 edition of the Indian Premier League, Chennai Super Kings' main problem was so obvious even a person with no interest in the sport will have been able to point it — lack of aggressive intent after the powerplay till the death. Even though Chennai tried to address it by sending the likes of Sam Curran up the order that was always sticking plaster on a deep wound.

So at the auction, their strategy was simple. Target somebody who could provide that kick, that impetus with the bat. Even if the identity of the cricketer — Moeen Ali — to plug that gap wasn't straightforward — the Englishman is doing the business for three-time IPL champions. If their approach in 2020 put people to sleep, Ali is leading the charge in the first six overs and beyond. That he is also more than handy with the ball in his hand as he showed in Mumbai on Monday against Rajasthan Royals is a further plus point.

The way he builds his innings — granted taking numbers from just three innings is a small sample size — is what has helped Chennai so far. Against Rajasthan on Monday, he had three boundaries in the first 13 balls. In the second match against Punjab, he had four boundaries in his first 11 balls. In the first match against Delhi Capitals, he averaged a boundary every four balls in his innings (4x4, 2x6) after a slow start. His release has allowed other players to keep playing the same way without taking undue risks, something they are accustomed to doing, till the death.

Coach Fleming made the point that Ali's batting impetus has allowed them to score big. "Moeen has been really impressive and the way he has played at No.3 helped us getting good scores," he said after the match on Monday. He also touched upon Ali's all-round impact. "He's adding an all-round aspect to our game which we lacked a bit last year. His contributions to date have been what we were looking for. We're absolutely wrapped with the way he has started."

If Ali continues on this path, especially against his national skipper Eoin Morgan against Kolkata Knight Riders on Wednesday, expect his work to get noticed by the national team as well (he's currently not a shoe-in in the T20I set-up).

But it can quickly change, and Fleming is well aware of that. For starters, they might have to think about replacing Ruturaj Gaikwad who's not had a good start to the season. "Robin Uthappa is waiting. Ruturaj Gaikwad has his spot. He earned a bit of time with the way he played last season," Fleming said.

"You know our philosophy. We give players a good amount of chances in what they are trying to do. The intent is there and timing is great. We will continue to back him. We will make a decision to change at some point. We will discuss it pretty hard but at the moment we are backing a good young player."

Today's match: CSK vs KKR, Live on SS1 @ 7.30 PM in Mumbai

TODAY'S MATCH, SRH vs PBKS | CHENNAI: LIVE ON SS1 @ 3.30 PM

Punjab Kings will be hoping for better run in a new venue while Sunrisers Hyderabad could be thinking of wholesale changes in this clash of the basement dwellers on Wednesday.

HYDERABAD'S COMBINATION PLAY

Their middle order has undergone significant cosmetic work but they continue to serve ordinary fare. Sample this. In the three games this season, they (Nos 5, 6, and 7), between them, have 88 runs for an average of eight and a strike rate of 117. That's unacceptable in backyard cricket, forget IPL. Unless they address, tough for them to finish top-four.

WHAT'S EATING RAHUL?

Going after the Orange Cap is well and good but not at the cost of batting slowly. In the last match, Rahul's slow innings costed them the game. You can't keep complaining about batting depth, when you have pushed down the likes of Nicholas Pooran. With Shahrukh Khan also added to the mix, Rahul has to shed his inhibitions.

Delhi Capitals' Amit Mishra picked up four wickets to break Mumbai Indians back at the MA Chidambaram Stadium in Chennai on Tuesday | SPORTZPICS

Mishra spins a web around Mumbai Indians

AGENCIES @Chennai

ON A slow, sluggish Chepauk pitch, where batsmen struggled to get going, Shikhar Dhawan's 45 gave Delhi Capitals a six-wicket win over Mumbai Indians in the IPL game on Tuesday. Set 138 to win, Delhi reached home in the final over, for their third win of the season and climbed to the second spot in the table.

As been the case at the venue, chasing proved to be huge ask and had Mumbai been a bit more disciplined with the ball, the result could have been lot different. The 53-run stand for second wicket between Dhawan and Steve Smith proved the difference between the two sides.

Earlier, Amit Mishra spun his web and snared four crucial wickets as Delhi restricted Mumbai Indians to a below-par 137/9

Mumbai suffered a middle-order collapse after they were 67 for 2 at one stage as Delhi led by Mishra (4/24) made a spectacular comeback. Opting to bat, Mumbai lost opener Quinton De Kock (1) early, who edged a Marcus Stoinis (1/20) delivery to Rishabh Pant in the third over. Suryakumar Yadav (24) and Rohit Sharma (44)'s, 58-run stand threatened to take the game away from Delhi before Mishra delivered his magical spell to floor Mumbai.

Brief scores: MI 137/9 in 20 ovs (Rohit 44, Mishra 4-24) lost to Delhi Capitals 138/4 in 19.1 ovs (Dhawan 45).

Leeds rally to hold Liverpool

AFP @Leeds

LIVERPOOL were held to a 1-1 draw away to Leeds United on Monday in a match overshadowed by the furious response to the Merseysiders' planned involvement in a breakaway European Super League (ESL).

A draw left sixth-placed Liverpool two points adrift of fourth-placed West Ham in the Premier League.

The Reds opened the scoring before the interval through Sadio Mane only for Diego Llorente to equalise with his first Leeds goal, a header from a corner, three minutes from time.

The top four in the Premier League come the end of the season are usually the four English clubs guaranteed a place in next term's UEFA Champions League.

Dharun, Anjali out of final relay teams

SWAROOP SWAMINATHAN/ INDRANEEL DAS @Chennai

HURDLER Dharun Ayyasamy and Anjali Devi are notable exclusions from the final list of athletes for the World Relays in Silesia, an Olympic qualifier, on May 1 and 2. Dharun has been an integral part of the team and has constantly featured in the 4x400m men's relay for the last few years. Quarter-miler Devi had been injured for a while and even pulled out of the Senior Nationals Federation Cup athletics last month. In all, AFI have named an 18-member team.

This is a significant event for three of the four relay sides — men's 4x400, women's 4x100 and 4x400 — aiming to seal an Olympics berth. The task in front of them is simple. As long as the three teams manage to qualify for the final, they will be in Tokyo. Only 4x400 mixed relay has qualified as of now.

INDIA SQUAD

MEN 4X400: MEN Sarthak Bhambri, Amoj Jacob, N Pandi, Arokia Rajiv, Noah Tom, Muhammad Anas

4X100: WOMEN: Daneshwari Ashok, Dutee Chand, Hima Das, Dhana Lakshmi Sekar, Himashree Roy, Archana Suseentran

4X400 WOMEN: Kiran, MR Poovamma, Jisna Mathew, Revathi Veeramani, VK Vismaya, Subha V

4X400: MIXED: Amoj, Jisna, Arokia, Vismaya, Subha, Anas

Though there have been concerns of Covid in Patiala centre of late, Athletics Federation of India president Adille Sumariwalla said Dharun was not part of the team. "The two (Dharun and Anjali) will, however, go to Turkey for training," he said. "They will leave on May 3 and join the rest of the team from the World Relay."

The president also felt the World Relays will be a good opportunity for all the other relay teams to qualify. "I am optimistic that all the teams will qualify," he said.

The president is confident that the other Olympic-bound athletes' exposure trip abroad would be as per schedule. "As of now there is no change and all our training abroad is as per schedule," he said. "It had been a big challenge for us as dates keep changing and events getting cancelled. But all will be going abroad for training."

After the Games were postponed, new World Athletics qualifying criteria state that the top eight finishers in all relay events in Silesia will secure a place. "The first eight (8) placed NOCs at the World Athletics Relays Silesia 2021 shall automatically qualify for the relay events at the 2020 Olympic Games."

Seven more boxers in Youth Worlds semis

BABYROJISANA Chanu outclassed defending European champion Alexas Kubicka as seven Indian boxers stormed into the semifinals at the youth world championships for men and women in Kielce, Poland.

Along with Chanu (51kg), Arundhati Choudhary (69kg), Sanamacha Chanu (75kg), Ankit Narwal (64kg), Vishal Gupta (91kg), Bishwamitra Chongtham (49kg) and Sachin (56kg) assured themselves of at least a bronze by advancing to the last-four stage on Day 7 of competitions.

With the confirmation of seven more medals, the 20-member Indian contingent is now assured of 11 medals from the ongoing championship.

Earlier on Day 6, Vinka, Alfiya, Gitika and Poonam had advanced to the semifinals. In a clash between two strong gold contenders in women's 51kg category, Asian youth champion Chanu put up a strong tactical performance.

In men's, Asian junior champion Bishwamitra and Asian youth championship silver medallist Narwal also lived up to expectations and notched-up easy 5-0 victories against Serbian Omer Ametovic and Brazil's Ezequiel Da Cruz respectively. Manish (75kg) and Sumit (69kg) were the only two Indian boxers who suffered defeats in the quarterfinals.

Sharath, Manika get down to mixed training in Chennai

AYANTAN CHOWDHURY @New Delhi

BOTH A Sharath Kamal and Manika Batra finally got down to practicing together at the Jawaharlal Nehru Indoor stadium in Chennai on Tuesday. This mini camp aimed primarily towards doubles training is likely to last till April 25. Manika reached around 3pm and both began their practice from around 6pm for around two-and-half hours. Young India paddlers Manush Shah and Sudhanshu Grover, whose stay was extended keeping in mind the doubles training, too were present.

While the imminent threat of lockdown dwelled on everyone's minds, finally getting down to training together as a pair was quite fruitful. "You cannot avoid what is going on all around us. But once we stepped inside the hall, we had a good session. We have been planning this for some time now but the rise in cases Maharashtra meant we had to put this off. I'm glad we have managed to get together finally and hopefully, it will last the full quota of days," Sharath told this daily.

The plan according to the 38-year-old is to focus primarily on technical aspects this time around due to lack of time. "Footwork, combination play is what we will be looking to improve as of now. Going forward, match specific situations and match practice is what we will be needing. But we do not have the luxury of time and sparring partners as of now," he added. The duo have had talks about the Chennai paddler heading to Pune in the future once the numbers in Maharashtra show improvement.

The sparring partner situation and future practice plans are all in limbo due to the second Covid-19 wave. Multiple proposals have been prepared and the TTFI after consultation with the Olympic qualifiers have sent a detailed plan to Sports Authority of India but all of those will have to wait for now.

Those plans include bringing in foreign sparring partners from Europe and Asia, with a few specifically aimed at mixed doubles, as well as around 10 Indian paddlers. "We have had a talk with SAI but current situation has meant both foreign and Indian players are yet to confirm. So as of now, paddlers are focusing on training in their own respective centres," TTFI secretary Arun Banerjee said.

The vast melting of Greenland's ice sheet caused by unusually high temperatures in 2012 had a lasting impact on its ability to absorb and store future meltwater, new research in Nature Communications showed on Tuesday. Authors of the research said it was evidence of how one-off or rare weather events could have a lasting impact on Earth's frozen spaces and a knock-on effect on global sea levels.

Rediscovered coffee species could be the industry's future

A once-prized coffee species, rediscovered in West Africa decades after it was thought to have disappeared, is just as tasty as high-end Arabica and more resilient to climate change, scientists said in Nature Plants, adding that the forgotten bean could help future-proof quality coffee

HOW THE PLANTS FARE

The world gets its caffeine hit mostly from the beans of just two -- Arabica, considered to be the superior brew, and the less refined Robusta, mostly used for instant mixes

GROWING AVERAGE TEMPERATURE IN °C

Arabica	Robusta	Stenophylla
19	23	24.9

ONCE IN A LIFETIME FIND

Aaron Davis, Head of Coffee Research at the Royal Botanical Gardens, Kew, who led the research said that to find a coffee species with both resilience and taste is "a once in a lifetime scientific discovery... This species could be essential for the future of high-quality coffee"

A TIMELINE OF COFFEA STENOPHYLLA

1800-1900

Endemic to Guinea, Sierra Leone and Ivory Coast, stenophylla was considered to be superior even to Arabica according to reports from the 1800s and early 1900s, its popularity spreading to the cafes of France

1954

It fell out of use in the 20th century, vanishing completely from the record in 1954

2018

Scientists finally found it growing in the wild in Sierra Leone in 2018 and began studying its temperature tolerance — and its flavour

2020

They carried out a blind taste test with a jury of industry professionals from coffee brands Nespresso and Jacobs Douwe Egberts

CLIMATE CHANGE

Global warming presents a serious challenge for the multi-billion dollar coffee industry

MORE DATA NEEDED

Researchers say more work needs to be done to work out exactly where it could adapt to be grown, but it could be in tropical areas where Arabica is already under pressure from warming

CATCHING THE TASTE

In the blind test, "judges all found it different from what they know, with vegetal notes," said Delphine Mieulet, scientist at the French agricultural research centre CIRAD, who led the tasting. The new coffee had notes of "rose, elderflower, lychee, like the best Arabica", she said, adding that the sample provided was so rare that not everyone was able to taste it

2020 was one of three warmest years on record

Climate change is relentless and continuing, with global indicators such as sea-level rise worsening, warns report

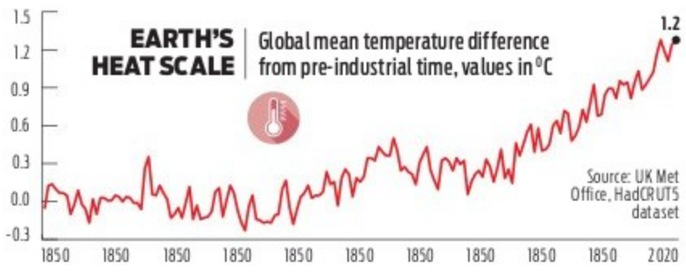
CLIMATE

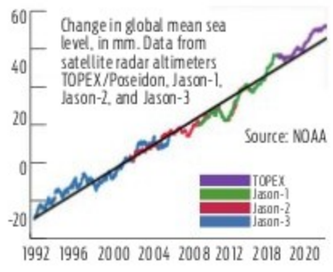
NEW DELHI: The year 2020 was one of the three warmest ones on record, despite a cooling La Niña event as the global average temperature was about 1.2 degree Celsius above the pre-industrial 1850-1900 level (see chart), says a new report compiled by the World Meteorological Organization.

The six years since 2015 have been the warmest on record. The period 2011-2020 was the warmest decade on record.

"It has been 28 years since the World Meteorological Organization issued the first state of the climate report in 1993, due to the concerns raised at that time about projected climate change. While understanding of the climate system and computing power have increased since then, the basic message remains the same and we now have 28 more years of data that show significant temperature increases over land and sea as well as other changes like sea level rise, melting of sea ice and glaciers and changes in precipitation patterns," said WMO Secretary-General Prof. Petteri Taalas.

The report on the State of the Global Climate 2020 documents indicators of the climate system, including greenhouse gas concentrations, increasing land and ocean temperatures, sea level rise, melting ice and glacier retreat and extreme weather. It also highlights impacts on socio-economic development, migration and displacement, food security and land and marine ecosystems.





The report comes ahead of the April 22-23 virtual Leaders Summit on Climate, convened by the United States of America. President Biden is seeking to galvanize efforts by the major economies to reduce greenhouse gas emissions and meet the targets of the Paris Agreement on Climate Change to keep temperature increase to well below 2°C above pre-industrial levels by the end of the century, and to 1.5°C if possible. "This report shows that we have no time to waste... Countries need to commit to net zero emissions by 2050. They need to submit, well ahead of COP26 in Glasgow, ambitious national climate plans that will collectively cut global emissions by 45 per cent compared to 2010 levels by 2030," said the UN Secretary-General. ENS

ENTOMOLOGY

Kosovar biologist Halil Ibrahimi believes the pandemic restrictions haven't all been bad — as a result of them, he completed his research, raised public awareness of the pollution of river basins and named a newly discovered insect after the virus. Ibrahimi had spent years working on a research report on a caddisfly species found in Kosovo's Bjeshket e Nemuna (Accursed Mountains) national park. That species now bears the name Potamophylax coronavirus.

Fire guts historic South African library collection

HISTORY

CAPE TOWN: Fire crews had largely contained a big wildfire on the slopes of Cape Town's Table Mountain on Tuesday as the city started to come to terms with the damage caused by what officials described as one of the area's worst blazes in years.

The University of Cape Town campus was one of the first sites to be hit and appears to have suffered the most damage. Numerous buildings at the university burned, including part of a near 100-year-old library containing rare books and manuscripts on African studies. The university said some of those "priceless" works had been lost, but it was unclear yet how much.

Other historic buildings nearby, including a 225-year-old windmill and a renowned restaurant and tea room near a memorial to British colonial politician Cecil Rhodes, also burned down. At the tea room, plates and half-full cups sat on charred tables amid the ruins, showing how customers and staff had been forced to suddenly flee.

Michelangelo's inspiration

The Belvedere Torso inspired Michelangelo but is often ignored by visitors rushing to the Sistine Chapel, an oversight the Vatican Museums hope to resolve with a new video series. The Torso, a fragmentary Greek marble statue more than 2,000 years old. Believed to be of the Greek hero Ajax in the act of contemplating suicide, the Torso is now in the Vatican's Octagonal Court. It was studied by generations of artists, including Michelangelo, who would spend hours before it every day.

Russia plans to launch its own space station

SCIENCE

MOSCOW: Russia's space agency said Tuesday it hoped to launch its own orbital station in 2025 as Moscow considers withdrawing from the International Space Station programme to go it alone.

Roscosmos chief Dmitry Rogozin said work had begun on the fist module of a new station, after officials warned that Russia was considering pulling out of the ISS, one of the few successful examples of cooperation with the West.

The announcement came with tensions soaring over espionage claims, a Russian troop build-up along Ukraine's borders and the deteriorating health of President Vladimir Putin's imprisoned critic Alexei Navalny.

"The first core module of the new Russian orbital station is in the works," Rogozin said in a statement on messaging app Telegram.

He said Russia's Energia space corporation was aiming to have the module "ready for launch" in 2025 and released a video of Energia staff at work.

Launched in 1998 and involving Russia, the United States, Canada, Japan, and the European Space Agency, the ISS is one of the most ambitious international collaborations in human history.

Russia's Deputy Prime Minister Yury Borisov said in recent days that Moscow was considering whether to leave the ISS programme from 2025 because of the station's age.

Roscosmos said on Monday that a decision on quitting the ISS had not yet been made. "When we make a decision we will start negotiations with our partners on forms and conditions of cooperation beyond 2024," the space agency told AFP in a statement.

Russia lost its monopoly for manned flights to the ISS last year after the first successful mission of the US company Space X.

Adenovirus vaccine component in spotlight as EMA links shot to clots

MEDICINE

LONDON: Experts at the agency that regulates drugs for the European Union said Tuesday that they found a "possible link" between the Johnson & Johnson COVID-19 vaccine and very rare blood clots after a small number of cases were reported in the United States, but they confirmed the vaccine's benefits still outweighed the very small risks of recipients developing the unusual clots.

The European Medicines Agency said a warning about the rare blood clots should be added to labels for Johnson & Johnson's Covid-19 vaccine. The agency said these rare blood disorders should be considered as "very rare side effects of the vaccine."

Last week, Johnson & Johnson halted its European roll-out of the vaccine after US officials recommended a pause in the vaccine, when they detected six very rare blood clot cases among nearly 7 million people who had been vaccinated.

European officials said they considered all available evidence from the US, which consisted of eight reports of serious cases of rare blood clots associated with low blood platelets, including one death.

Last week, J&J halted its European rollout of its one-dose vaccine after the U.S. Food and Drug Administration recommended officials pause its use while the rare blood clot cases are examined. Officials identified six cases of the highly unusual blood clots among nearly 7 million people who were immunized with the shot in the U.S.

Johnson & Johnson advised European states to store their doses until the EU drug regulator issued guidance on their use; widespread use of the shot in Europe has not yet started.

The blood clots linked to the J&J vaccine are occurring in unusual parts of the body, such as veins that drain blood from the brain. Those patients also have abnormally low levels of platelets.

With the AstraZeneca vaccine, scientists in Norway and Germany have suggested that some people are experiencing an abnormal immune system response, forming antibodies that attack their own platelets.

It's not yet clear if there might be a similar mechanism with the Johnson & Johnson vaccine. But both the J&J and AstraZeneca vaccines, as well as a Russian COVID-19 vaccine and one from China, are made with the same technology. They train the immune system to recognize the spike protein that coats the coronavirus. To do that, they use a cold virus, called an adenovirus, to carry the spike gene into the body.

"Suspicion is rising that these rare cases may be triggered by the adenovirus component of the AstraZeneca and J&J vaccines," said Eleanor Riley, a professor of immunology and infectious diseases at the University of Edinburgh. She said while more data was needed, "it remains the case that for the vast majority of adults in Europe and the USA, the risks associated with contracting COVID-19 far, far outweigh any risk of being vaccinated."

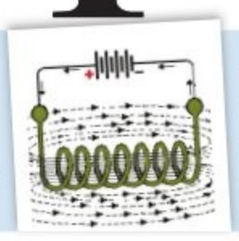
Electromagnetism

In 1820, Danish scientist Hans Christian Ørsted carried out an experiment for which he is credited with the discovery of electromagnetism

THE OBSERVATION

He observed, while preparing for a lecture, that when he ran an electric current through a wire, a nearby compass needle was temporarily deflected from its stable position of pointing towards the magnetic north



THE PHENOMENON

Electricity and magnetism were long thought to be separate forces. In 1905, Albert Einstein's special theory of relativity established that both are aspects of one common phenomenon

THE MAGNETIC EFFECT

The magnetic field around an electromagnet is just the same as the one around a bar magnet. It can, however, be reversed by reversing the current

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Doing their bit to fight the pandemic, Bengalureans are coming together to provide free meals for COVID patients

MONIKA MONALISA

They say, no step towards helping someone is big or small, it's the intent and the effort that matters. And Bengalureans have always displayed this united strength during desperate times. With the second wave of COVID spreading rampantly, leaving many helpless, home cooks have stepped up to prepare healthy meals for those infected by the virus.

When home chef Rati Dhananjayan got to know about the ordeal that her best friend, who tested positive, went through since she didn't know how to cook, Rati decided to volunteer to help others like her friend. Using her Instagram handle rati_ratatouille_homecooking, Rati has been volunteering to offer meals to COVID patients. "Anyone who has tested positive has told me that they go through a lot of fatigue and need constant rest. It does not matter if you know how to cook or not, at this point, one needs to rest as much as he/she can and have two healthy meals," says Dhananjayan, who has been running her business for the past one year. The first five orders — both lunch and dinner included — are free. After that, every meal is charged ₹150. "It's your basic dal, rice and sabji. I would love to give all the orders for free but I will need some amount to get the supplies," she says, adding that she is catering in CV Raman Nagar, HAL, Indiranagar and New Thippasandra.

Sometimes, the cap for free meals is not just due to budget but also because these home chefs juggle work and volunteering. Ankit Vengurlekar, a public relations professional, started Didi's Kitchen exactly a year ago in April 2020 to lend a helping hand to his maid Saroj didi. This time around, he decided to do his bit to fight the pandemic. Currently, he is giving out 20 free meals (both lunch and dinner) in HSR and BTM Layout. "If I want, I can give away 100 free meals but the problem is it's just Saroj didi, who takes care of cooking. With a full-time job, it gets difficult to coordinate with 20 delivery agents," says Vengurlekar. However, once the quota for the day is booked, he refers patrons to others, who are offering similar service.

Like Vengurlekar, Samhitha Sreevathsa also has a full-time job. But nothing can stop this IT professional from extending help to those in need. "The situation outside is really bad and to recover one needs a healthy home-cooked meal. Currently, I am working from home. That's how I manage the timing. I anyway cook similar food for my husband and me," says Sreevathsa, a resident of Whitefield.

Rati and her ilk are walking the talk — teaching us that charity, and in this case, compassion, begins at home.

KNOW YOUR CITY

Arun Prasad, city-based history researcher, unravels interesting facts about Bengaluru in this weekly quiz series. So it's time for you to find out how familiar you are with the city, beyond its heritage buildings, IT parks and the pub culture.

THE QUIZ WILL BE PUBLISHED EVERY WEDNESDAY

Send answers to bengalurucityexpress@gmail.com with the subject line 'Know Your City Quiz'

Correct answers and names of first three respondents with right answers will be featured in CE on Thursday.

QUESTIONS

1. Karnataka Itihasa Academy was founded by Dr Suryanath Kamat and Prof GS Dixit, two eminent historians in the year 1986 with an objective to create awareness of the state's glorious history and heritage. Where in Bengaluru is the academy located?

2. Way back in 1843 on July 1, the first Kannada newspaper was launched by Hermann Friedrich Moegling, a Basel missionary from Germany settled in Mangaluru. The Karnataka Media Academy celebrates July 1 as 'Press Day' to mark this historical day. What was the name of the newspaper?

3. With the initiative of Sir M Visvesvaraya under the patronage of the then Maharaja of Mysore, Krishnaraja Wodeyar IV, State Bank of Mysore was established in the year 1913. With its headquarters set up in a prominent location where once stood one of the important gates of old Bengaluru fort which Kempegowda built. Name the fort gate.

STAYING SAFE!

The second wave of COVID has gripped Karnataka, with Bengaluru recording the highest number of cases over the past few days. With the murmurs of yet another lockdown in the city, former city commissioner Bhaskar Rao has expressed his view on social media about the constant call for a lockdown. Taking to Twitter, he said "Don't keep on asking whether there is lockdown. You are aware of the situation. Just stay home."

Nailing it right

Neon, crystal or swirls — make this summer fun by adding these new nail trends to your style

In a frame, it's usually our face and hand gestures that are visible. Nail art can add a pop of colour and excitement and it can just lift the mood.

Sneha Bhagwat, Nailbox - Nail & Dry Bar

MONIKA MONALISA

With life having moved online, there's hardly a chance to groom and flaunt any make-up trends on Zoom calls. But what's getting a lot of attention is our hands and nails that we tend to flash every once in a while while talking virtually. So, why not not make it talking point by adding fun and peppy colours this summer with nail art and nail extensions. Apart from bright neons and cool blues, nails with crystals and semi-precious stones seem to be the new favourites.

Sneha Bhagwat, one of the co-founders of the premium nail bar Nailbox - Nail & Dry Bar, says, with more and more Zoom calls taking place, nail art is like an accessory, as people use a lot of hand gestures to communicate. "In a frame, it's usually our face and hand gestures that are visible. Nail art can add a pop of colour and excitement and it can just lift the mood," says Bhagwat.

In its new avatar, the French manicure seems to have a lot of takers. Instead of the usual white tips, you can opt for bold colours like neon green. Another popular option is the tie-dye trend. If you are one of those who doesn't want to risk going to the parlour in a pandemic, then Swirl nails are the easiest ones to try at home. All you need to ensure is that your spiral lines are thin enough to look great.

With nails going through so much wear and tear, many must wonder if it is safe for the cuticles. Bhagwat clears the myth. "That's the most common concern for anyone. Generally in nail art, gel-based polish don't harm the cuticles. In case of nail extension, it's important for the nail artists to give the right advice, so choosing your nail artists wisely is also important," says Bhagwat.

Sonalika Pawar, who is particular about the health as well as the style of her nails, agrees. A media professional, who loves trying out new nail trends, she says, women are particular about their appearances and it's not restricted to just clothes, footwear and accessories. "A fresh manicure or nail extension just adds that extra oomph. Gel or acrylic extensions instantly give you longer and stronger nails. There are ample nail shapes, styles and art to choose from," says Pawar.

TAPPING THE LAST RESORT

With an unprecedented health crisis impacting academics, students have no option but to find a digital way

PEARL MARIA DSOUZA

Uncertainty about how the upcoming academic year will unfold has had little impact on 24 government schools in the state. Bal Utsav, an NGO in Bengaluru, has equipped these schools with Internet, provided Tabs to many of them (which can be further distributed to teachers or students) and has also given free access to e-learning content to these schools.

Founder of Bal Utsav, Ramesh Balgangadhar told TNIE that after the lockdown, in December and January, the Tabs and content were given to schools in urban and rural areas. The ones with fewer students (around 100) are termed I-Shalas and the large urban schools are called Sampoorna Shalas.

"The access to the paid content was given to them at schools, and parents and students were to get their login by visiting the school premises," said Ramesh. Since access is for three years, continuity of learning will be maintained.

The initiative took flight in 2011 when Bal Utsav started classes for out-of-school children — slum dwellers, children of construction workers and tribal children — in unused government school classrooms. However, after a furore about the safety norms, they shifted from a model where they took over just a few classrooms, to revamping entire government schools. These schools are now called model schools. The 24 schools are all government schools in Bengaluru and Shivamogga, which are being converted to model schools, so parents admit their wards by choice and not as a last resort due to financial incapabilities.

"All our 24 model schools are Internet-enabled," he said. Smart TVs are also set up in these schools, and both teachers and students consume educational content. As many as seven to 10 Tabs have been provided to each of the I-Shalas.

These initiatives are being funded by individuals from India and abroad, and through CSR initiatives. "The schools are equipped for continuous learning now. Given the existing scenario, they are empowered for blended learning. The Tabs given to schools, if used by teachers, has great use in localised learning like Vidyagama. However, schools are also free to give them to select students to continue learning," he added.

EKA PADA KOUNDINYASANA II

(ONE LEGGED POSE DEDICATED TO THE SAGE KOUNDINYA II)

In Sanskrit, 'eka' means one, 'pada' means leg, 'Koundinya' refers to a sage, and 'asana' means pose. It is the second of two asanas named after him. It is one of the most challenging arm balancing yoga poses that improves focus, balance, concentration and inner strength. Beginners might want to support one or both legs with a chair, or practise preparatory poses first, by placing the right inner thigh on top of the arm and trying to straighten the leg. Then, they can try to make small kicks with the back leg and, finally, try to lift it up and straighten it as well.

STEPS

- Start in Utthan Pristhasana (Lizard Pose) with the left leg forward. Lift your elbows off the floor by straightening your arms.
- Thread your left arm under your left leg and place your palm flat on the outside of your left foot. Try to get your left knee just over your left shoulder if possible.
- Bend both arms into a Chaturanga Pose (Four-Limbed Staff Pose) with the upper arms parallel to the floor.
- Straighten your left leg, bringing your left thigh onto the shelf created by your upper arm. Lift your left toes from the floor.
- Shift your weight forward into your arms so that you can lift the right foot from the floor behind you, engaging your right thigh to keep that leg raised and straight.
- Keep the gaze on the floor just in front of you. You don't need to crank your neck up, but also don't let your head drop since its weight can tip you forward.
- Try to hold the posture for five breaths.
- To come out of the pose, lower the back foot to the ground. Sit back into Balasana (Child's Pose).
- Repeat with the other leg.

BENEFITS

- Improves balance and core strength.
- Stretches hamstrings and groin.
- Strengthens arms.
- Triceps, biceps, and core muscles hold your body in the arm stand.
- Glutes, hamstrings, and hip muscles keep the legs extended.
- A hip opener; an antidote to sitting for long.

LIMITATIONS

- If you have an injury on the wrists or shoulders, avoid this.
- People suffering at the initial stages of carpal tunnel syndrome, avoid this.
- Best to keep an additional cushion on the floor near your face, to avoid getting hurt if you fall.

— by N Elumalai, PhD scholar (Yoga Science) at Meenakshi Academy of Higher Education & Research, Chennai

Method In Madness is Iyer's account of adventure in bureaucracy, and is peppered with life lessons and fun

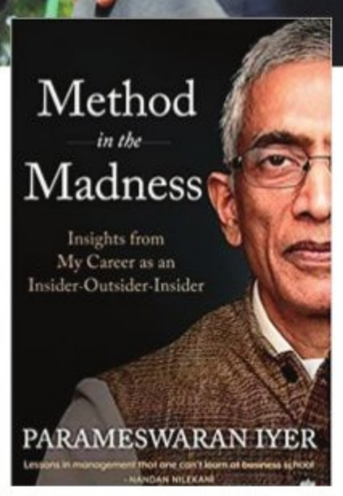
Jaiye aur Bharath ko swachh banaiye'- the clarion call to Parameswaran Iyer by Prime Minister Narendra Modi was enough to unleash the plan to take on one of the world's toughest projects- Swachch Bharat Abhiyaan. In Method in Madness, published by Harper Collins, Iyer documents his journey in the Indian administration and the challenges he faced. A 1981 batch IAS officer of the Uttar Pradesh cadre, Iyer was Prime Minister Modi's go-to man for Swachh Bharat Abhiyan. His stint as sector manager for water and sanitation with the World Bank made him the perfect candidate for changing the attitudes of 500 million people with regard to sanitation: Making India open defecation-free in three years when only 35% of the rural population had access to sanitation. The book chronicles the different roles Iyer has donned, starting with being an IAS officer to working in the World Bank in Washington D C and taking a break to be road manager for his daughter Tara and son Venkat, in tennis, to finally working as a Secretary to the Government of India under the Ministry of Drinking Water and Sanitation.

"My wife advised me to write this book so that it becomes a source of learning for aspiring civil servants. The opportunity presented itself in the form of lockdown last year," says Iyer. Method In Madness is a pacing read about Iyer's career and his takeaways from his experiences. "The book gave me an opportunity to share my experiences in the form of pro-tips which are for anyone starting out in their career. There are 30-odd tips and each of them relate to an actual experience I had," says the 61-year-old.



Some of his interesting experiences listed in the book includes, managing the law and order during the anti-Sikh riots in Dehradun at the time of former Prime Minister, Indira Gandhi's assassination, learning about sanitation models in Afghanistan, Africa, and China during his World Bank stint, and facing critics of the clean India programme. Iyer's lateral entry to the government has been an irritant for many of his colleagues. "When I assumed office as the Secretary I had the IAS credentials removed because I was technically not in the IAS. There was resentment among some officers due to my direct appointment as the secretary," says Iyer. When India was declared an 100 % ODF country in 2019, many critics questioned the data presented by the Ministry of Drinking Water and Sanitation. Iyer says "We are very confident about the numbers. Even the World Health Organisation came out with a report on India saving many lives by preventing infections due to open defecation. The Jal Jeevan mission which aims to provide access to drinking water for 150 million rural household is yet another initiative amplifying the Swachh Bharat campaign," says Iyer who is now in Washington DC as a lead for World Bank's Water Global practice.

'They sleep in the open, the children shivering, hungry'

IN a broken and contentious world, it can be difficult for an individual to find the happiness that he seeks, even if by nature he (or she) is not a contentious person. It is difficult to enjoy the flowers by the wayside if a tear gas cylinder (or something worse) has just burst in front of you. Throughout history the peace-loving, happiness-seeking individual is caught in the crossfire of human conflict. But still, he grows flowers, and sometimes he gets to enjoy them.

If you can grow flowers in your garden, or on your balcony, or on your windowsill, you have a chance of finding happiness-fleeting moments of it, anyway.

From my bedroom window I can see a storm brewing over the distant hills. The sky has darkened. The wind is a low moan as it channels a pathway through the trees. Lightning strikes at random, zigzagging across the evening sky. Nature at her most elemental but also most beautiful.

That lightning, the violence of the storm, are not aimed at me or mine, for the elements take no sides. I can stand and watch the beauty of this electrical display, knowing it is indifferent to the watcher. Lightning will strike by accident, not design. I close the window and turn on the television. Tired, desperate refugees from bombed-out homes in Syria trek across no-man's land in search of something and are turned back from another border. They sleep out in the open, the children shivering, hungry.

In America, a lone gunman goes on the rampage; a 'disturbed' individual. But we are all disturbed individuals. Trump shakes his head, talks about money; there are white circles around his eyes; he is losing colour!

In New Delhi, there are communal riots. This suits many of the politicians. In Indonesia, an earthquake, nature asserting herself. We are obsessed with outer space, forgetting the fires smouldering within our planet, ready to erupt without prior notice. This, the only green planet as far as we know, is looking less green by the day. There will be many Pompeiis.

Grow something, my friend. Even if it is a potted tomato plant, it will make a difference to your life.

A bowl of tomatoes is on the table before me. It's two o'clock, and the afternoon sun slants through the west window, falling on the tomatoes and giving them a certain resplendence. They glow. They glow like-well, like tomatoes in the sun.

At one time, these blood-red 'love apples' were considered poisonous, until a brave man came along and consumed a basket of them in public. Now we add tomatoes to all our dishes. Eating would be a dull business without a tomato to flavour the curry or the roast or the soup.

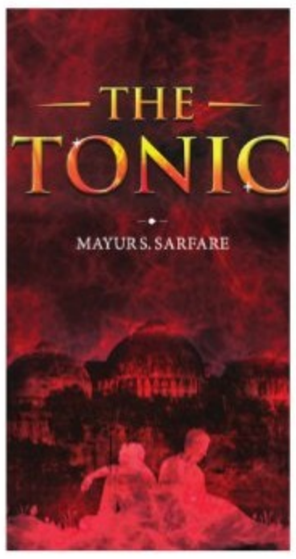
Kabir Bedi's autobiography out

Actor, Kabir Bedi, launches his autobiography Stories I Must Tell: The Emotional Life of An Actor, published by Westland Publications. The book speaks about his journey beyond India to stardom in Italy, then to Hollywood, and the difficulties of making a name for himself. During an interaction with actor Priyanka Chopra, who launched the book, on a digital platform, the veteran actor highlights some interesting anecdotes from the book including his interview with The Beatles—a turning point in his career, taking him from All India Radio in Delhi, to advertising and theatre in Mumbai, and finally into the world of cinema.



Reading atheism through philosophical lens

Six long years, debutante author Mayur Sudhakar Sarfare releases his novel The Tonic that is based on atheism. Sarfare who is a mass media professor at a college in Mumbai is an ardent consumer of metaphysics and philosophy and the book deals with atheism at a philosophical level and its impact on the major characters in a world ravaged by religious fanaticism. Set in the year 1992, The Tonic is an emotionally wrenching tale of an unlikely friendship between Masher and Raem, two young outcasts with psychological deficiencies. The story revolves around how they deal with different characters with different beliefs and being to win moments and people.

Fostering a puppy for the first time

URBAN BOURBON
Hriday Ranjan
Writer, comedian

I have never had a pet in my life. The concept of having a pet always struck me as inherently cruel. The animal is robbed of independence and social life, and is made completely dependent for food and shelter. Not only do we sterilise them, the heat in India is unbearable for most purebred dogs. Also, I was told all through my childhood that pets are for rich people.

I might not have had pets, but I have always gotten along fabulously with stray dogs. In my university, there was Kimbo Slice - the alpha who did not adhere to territorial boundaries and retired gracefully into the sunset when he turned too old. I have made friends with the stray dogs in every place I've visited. Whether it is the shaggy dogs in the Himalayas, or the free-spirited hippie dogs of Goa. Which is why my interest was piqued when a friend who runs a rescue shelter enquired if I'd be interested in fostering a puppy for a few weeks. The little thing had met with an accident and required care and attention till it was good enough to be back on the streets.

But I had my own fears. I'd never been responsible for anyone in my life. I was also afraid that my home would smell of piss and poop, and become messier than it already is. However, I got the puppy home.

For the first few days, she merely sat in a corner of my bed. She did not wag her tail, or make a sound. My responsibilities included feeding her thrice a day, taking her out for a walk twice a day, checking if she was pooping, and sending the pictures of her poop to my friend for verification. For someone without any sense of discipline, it gave my hedonistic life some sense of routine. My friends would even pamper her, buying her expensive toys and imported food that had to be mixed with only a particular flavour of Cerelac (Rice).

You can take the puppy out of the streets, but you can't take the streets out of the puppy. A true daughter of the soil, she had no expensive tastes to speak of. In spite of all the toys, her favourite things to play with were my socks, old T-shirts, slippers, and doormats. In spite of all the posh food at her disposal, she loved chewing on my hair and biting my nose.

The kids in my lane had fallen in love with her and given her a name (Pichhamma). I had gotten used to the routine, as had my flatmate- someone who is terrified of all kinds of animals. The shy little puppy had turned into the devil incarnate. Before I knew it, the two weeks had zoomed by, and it was time to return her to the streets.

And so on Sunday (incidentally National Pets Day), I returned the puppy to her street, to grow along with her siblings. She has adapted well, and I'm told is now the naughtiest of all the puppies in her litter. If you've ever been curious, I'd advise you to try fostering an indie puppy for a few weeks. Two fun-filled weeks for you could mean the difference between life and death for the little ones.

My room still smells of piss and poop. It's messier than it ever was - with paper, plastic and clothes strewn all over. But there's also a puppy-shaped hole in my heart, contended that she's made it back to where she truly belongs.

First schedule of Sapta Sagaradaache Yello nears completion

CE FEATURES

Director Hemanth M Rao is sticking to all covid protocols for the shoot of his project, Sapta Sagaradaache Yello. The team along with Rakshit Shetty and Rukmini Vasanth has been shooting for the past two weeks and will wrap up the first schedule in three days. The production had organised a trust-building workshop for the lead actors.

Rakshit Shetty, who is currently shooting in Kanteerava Studio says, "Director has filmed a few crucial portions, which needed to take place in Bengaluru. Post this, we will take a break, and then decide when to begin the next schedule, as it requires us to travel outside Bengaluru. We are keeping a check on the pandemic situation during all our planning."

The actor-director will be collaborating for the second time, after Godhi Banna Sadharana Mykattu. Being bankrolled by Paramvah Studios, Sapta Sagaradaache Yello is said to be an intense love story. The film has music by Charan Raj scoring music and cinematography by Adhvaitha Gurumurthy.

Rakshit, the filmmaker who enjoys juggling the roles of writer, actor, director and producer has made time for writing, in between the shoot. "Currently I am working on three scripts -- Richie, Punyakoti, and Midway to Moksha," reveals Rakshit Shetty, who also confirms making the Kirik Party sequel. The actor will be announcing one more project in May. "The work for the untitled particular project is currently on. I will reveal the details of it, only after I get clarity on it. Hopefully, I can share the news in the next two to three weeks," says Rakshit. The actor's last release was Avane Srimannarayana, (2019) and he is now waiting for the release of 777 Charlie, a pan Indian adventure drama, directed by KiranRaj. The team of 777 Charlie, which is currently working on the post-production work is yet to fix the release date.

SHOOT OF LIFE IS BEAUTIFUL WRAPPED UP

A still from Life is Beautiful

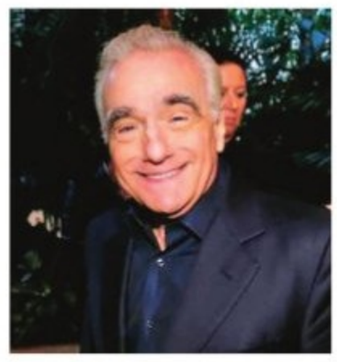
CE FEATURES

The shooting of Pruthvi Ambaar's Life is Beautiful was wrapped on Monday. Directed by Arunkumar M and Sabu Aloysius, Life is Beautiful stars Lasya Nagaraj as the female lead, and features Priyanka Upendra in a pivotal role. The film also marks Mummy- Save Me and Devaki director Lohith H's first production venture. Currently in the post-production stage, the release of Life is Beautiful will depend on the pandemic situation. "We are contemplating going the OTT route," says Lohith, who is producing this film under his Friday Films banner, in association with Silver Train International.

"It is a feel good drama, and as a first-time producer, I did enjoy the journey of Life is Beautiful. The whole process gave us a beautiful experience, and we are confident that the audience too will feel the same after watching the film," adds Lohith.

Life is Beautiful also marks the singing debut of Dia actor Pruthvi Ambar. The actor has rendered his voice for an inspirational song composed by Nobin Paul and written by Madan Bellisalu. With cinematography by Gautam, Life is Beautiful has Imran Sardhariya choreographing one of the songs.



Killers of The Flower Moon begins production

CE FEATURES

The filming of Martin Scorsese's much-awaited Killers of The Flower Moon has begun in Oklahoma.

Based on David Grann's 2017 bestseller, Killers of the Flower Moon is set in 1920s Oklahoma, and centres on the Osage Nation murders, in which members of the Native American tribe were murdered one by one after the group became rich off the oil found underneath their land. As the death toll rose, the newly created FBI took up the case to uncover a chilling conspiracy and one of the most monstrous crimes in US history.

In a statement, Scorsese said, "We are thrilled to finally start production on Killers of the Flower Moon in Oklahoma. To be able to tell this story on the land where these events took place is incredibly important and critical to allowing us to portray an accurate depiction of the time and people. We're grateful to Apple, the Oklahoma Film and Music Office and The Osage Nation, especially all our Osage consultants and cultural advisors, as we prepare for this shoot. We're excited to start working with our local cast and crew to bring this story to life on screen and immortalize a time in American history that should not be forgotten."

According to IndieWire, Scorsese and DiCaprio spent months leading up to the production on meetings with Osage Nation cultural leaders to ensure an accurate depiction of the culture and setting.

The cast of the film includes Academy Award winner Leonardo DiCaprio, Academy Award winner Robert De Niro, Emmy Award nominee Jesse Plemons, Lily Gladstone, Tantoo Cardinal, Cara Jade Myers, JaNae Collins, Jillian Dion, William Belleau, Louis Cancelmi, Tatanka Means, Michael Abbott Jr, Pat Healy, Scott Shepherd and Grammy Award-winning singer-songwriters Jason Isbell and Sturgill Simpson. Scorsese is directing the project from a script written by Eric Roth.

Olivia Colman

Olivia Colman in negotiations to join Marvel's Secret Invasion

CE FEATURES

Oscar-winning British star Olivia Colman is in negotiations to join Marvel's next series, Secret Invasion.

Though plot details are under wraps, according to The Hollywood Reporter, the series will focus on Samuel L Jackson's secret agent Nick Fury and a character from the shape-shifting alien race called Skrulls (played by Ben Mendelsohn).

As of now, no details are available about the role Colman will play in the series. One Night in Miami star Kingsley Ben-Adir is said to play the villain in the upcoming series.

Kyle Bradstreet, who worked on the thriller series Mr. Robot, is writing and executive producing the series with a shoot planned in the UK and Europe later this year.

Colman, who won an Oscar for her work in The Favourite, more recently starred as Queen Elizabeth II in Netflix's The Crown. She is nominated this year for the Best Supporting Actress Academy Award for her role in The Father.

RUDRA - THE EDGE OF DARKNESS: AJAY DEVGN TO MAKE DIGITAL DEBUT WITH LUTHER REMAKE

CE FEATURES

Bollywood actor Ajay Devgn is making his digital debut with Rudra - The Edge of Darkness. Set to stream on Disney+ Hotstar, the crime drama series is the Indian remake of Luther. Ajay will essay a cop tracking down complex crimes in Mumbai.

Rudra is co-produced by Applause Entertainment with BBC Studios India.

"My attempt has always been to tell unique stories and work with good talent," Ajay said. "The idea is to raise the bar of entertainment in India. The digital world excites me, and I am looking forward to working with Applause and BBC to bring this series to life on Disney+ Hotstar VIP."

A still from Luther

While he has played cops before, Ajay said that his character in Rudra is "more intense, complex and dark."

"What drew me most to his persona, is that he is possibly the greyest character you will come across in recent times," the actor shared.
